Motion Picture Production is a beginning film and video class that explores filmmaking.

There are three types of students who take this class: The first are those who are interested in film and video as a profession. The second are those majoring in radio/television and take this class for supporting information. The rest take the class as an elective. With this in mind, the curriculum tries to fulfill the needs of each group.

The objectives of this class are:

1. To teach students to tell stories through simple video techniques.
2. To have them understand how films are made.
3. To introduce the video/film profession as a possible vocation.

In this class we will explore the basic production skills of developing stories, working with actors, camera manipulation, working crew jobs, video editing, and audio techniques. Complicated technical skills are stressed, but the student should be aware that to be successful as a professional filmmaker, such skills must be mastered.

Students will work in groups, starting with small groups and progressively working into larger groups.
Working in this manner, the student will experience the multiple jobs of film production and develop their skills of working with people.

Three video production projects will be assigned:

1. A black and white short film (not to exceed twenty minutes) in video with no sound.
2. A short film in color with wild sound.
3. A short film with narrative and synchronized sound.

Through these student productions and through lectures and film screenings the students will learn basic production skills, be informed about professional techniques, have a basic knowledge of the job market, and learn a short history of the film profession.

This class can be a lot of fun, not only in making your own movies, but also in learning the tricks of production. You will also have the ability to ruin any film you watch with friends in the future by constantly talking about “how they did this” and “how they did that”.

Time: 2:00 – 4:40 pm Monday/Wednesday. Students are expected to attend all classes and work with their groups in both pre-production and post-production activities in and out of class time.

Class Attendance: Absences will be recorded. Three un-excused absences will lower a student’s grade one letter. Four un-excused absences can result in a failing grade. A late class arrival of over fifteen minutes will be regarded as an absence. Leaving class early (without permission) is also regarded as an absence.

Grades: Grades are based on:

1. Attendance
2. Test Scores
3. Participation in class and group projects
4. Attitude and Discipline toward the completion of projects
5. Subjective evaluation of film projects by the instructor

It is very important in this class to learn to work with your fellow filmmakers to complete your projects on time.
You can have a perfect score on the test and still not make an A in this class if you do not show up and work on your assigned group film projects in a professional and courteous manner.

Cell phones are to be turned off during class unless during an emergency with permission of the instructor.

The School of Art’s Desired Learning Outcomes:

Program – STUDIO ART BA AND BFA PLO's

1. Undergraduate students will demonstrate proficiency in studio foundation skills as they relate to the elements and principles of design.
2. Undergraduate students will exhibit a high level of proficiency in the use of materials, techniques, and media.
3. Undergraduate students will demonstrate understanding of contemporary art issues through exploration of synthesis of content, problem solving, and creativity.
4. Undergraduate students will define and state knowledge of Art Historical precedents.

S.F.A. Class Attendance and Excused Absence Policies

Class Attendance: Regular and punctual attendance is expected for all classes, laboratories, and other activities for which a student is registered. Attendance policies shall be stated in the syllabus. For those classes where attendance is a factor in the course grade, an accurate record of attendance shall be maintained. Regardless of attendance, the student is responsible for course content and assignments.
Excused Absences: Students may be excused from attendance for reasons such as health, family emergencies, or student participation in approved university-sponsored events. However, students are responsible for notifying their instructors in advance, when possible, for excusable absences. Students are responsible for providing satisfactory documentation in a timely manner to the instructor for each absence. Whether absences are excused or unexcused, a student is still responsible for all course content and assignments. Students with acceptable excuses may be permitted to make up work for a maximum of three weeks’ worth of absences during a semester or one week of a summer term, depending on the nature of the missed work. Make up work must be completed as soon as possible after returning from an absence in accordance with the course syllabus. In the case of absences caused by participation in university-sponsored events, announcement via my SFA will constitute official notification. Faculty members sponsoring activities that require their students to be absent from other classes must submit to the provost and vice president for academic affairs an explanation of the absence, including the date, time and an alphabetical listing of all attending students. If approved by the provost and vice president for academic affairs, this information will be posted on my SFA.

S.F.A. Academic Integrity Policy

Definition of Academic Dishonesty: Academic dishonesty includes both cheating and plagiarism. Cheating includes, but is not limited to: 1. Using or attempting to use unauthorized materials to aid in achieving a better grade on a component of a class; 2. Falsification or invention of any information, including citations, on an assignment; and/or: 3. Helping or attempting to help another in an act of cheating or plagiarism. Plagiarism is presenting the words or ideas of another person as if they were your own. Examples of plagiarism include, but are not limited to: 1. Submitting an assignment as if it were one’s own work when, in fact, it is at least partly the work of another; 2. Submitting a work that has been purchased or otherwise obtained from the Internet or another source; 3. Incorporating the words or ideas of an author into one’s paper or presentation without giving the author due credit.

Procedure for Addressing Student Academic Dishonesty: A faculty member who has evidence and/or suspects that academic dishonesty has occurred shall gather all pertinent information, approach the student(s) involved, and initiate the following procedure: 1. The faculty member shall review all evidence of cheating or plagiarism and discuss it directly with the student(s) involved. The faculty member shall inform the student(s) of the procedure for addressing academic dishonesty, as well as the appeals process: 2. After hearing the student(s)’ explanation or defense, the faculty member will determine whether or not academic dishonesty has occurred and will inform the student(s) what action will be taken. Penalties may include reprimand, no credit for the assignment or exam, resubmission of the work, make-up exam, or failure of the course. The faculty member may consult with the academic unit chair/director and dean in making these decisions: 3. After a determination of academic dishonesty, the faculty member shall notify the office of the dean of the student’s major by submitting a Report of Academic Dishonesty, along with supporting documentation as noted on the form. This report shall be made part of the student’s record and shall remain on file with the dean’s office for at least four years: 4. Upon second or subsequent offenses, the dean of the student’s major will determine a course of action, which may include dismissal from the university. The dean may refer the case to the college council for review and recommendations before making this determination. A student’s record of academic dishonesty will not be available to faculty members. The purpose of the record is for the dean to track a pattern of academic dishonesty during a student’s academic career at Stephen F. Austin State University. Students who are found to have demonstrated academic dishonesty and have withdrawn prior to the award of a grade will continue to have the determination of the infraction within their student records.

Student Appeals: A student who wishes to appeal decisions related to academic integrity should follow procedures outlined in Academic Appeals of Students (A-2). To see the complete policy go to:
http://www.sfasu.edu/policies/academic_integrity.asp

S.F.A. Withheld Grades Semester Grades Policy
Ordinarily, at the discretion of the instructor of record and with the approval of the academic chair/director, a grade of WH will be assigned only if the student cannot complete the course work because of unavoidable circumstances. Students must complete the work within one calendar year from the end of the semester in which they receive a WH, or the grade automatically becomes an F. If students register for the same course in future terms the WH will automatically become an F and will be counted as a repeated course for the purpose of computing the grade point average.

S.F.A. Policy for Students with Disabilities
To obtain disability related accommodations, alternate formats and/or auxiliary aids, students with disabilities must contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS), Human Services Building, and Room 325, 468-3004 1 468-1004 (TDD) as early as possible in the semester. Once verified, ODS will notify the course instructor and outline the accommodation and/or auxiliary aids to be provided. Failure to request services in a timely manner may delay your accommodations. For additional information, go to:
