Catalog Description: This course is intended primarily for non-majors. Credits: 3

This syllabus serves as a contract between the instructor and the students as to expectations for the course. It defines course requirements and grading structure. In addition to the requirements outlined by the syllabus, students are expected to participate in class exercises, complete assigned work, and maintain an atmosphere of professionalism within the classroom. You are responsible for adhering to all guidelines in this document, even if you choose not to read it.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course will expose students to the art of the theatre and theatrical works through reading, discussion, lecture, labs, and required attendance at play productions. A variety of dramatic literature will be read. Students will synthesize and interpret these works through written assignments, group projects, and discussion that will encourage critical thought and the development of intellectually defensible, conscientiously expressed personal opinion.

Core Objectives

- Critical Thinking Skills: to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, analysis, evaluation, and synthesis of information.
- Communication Skills: to include effective development, interpretation, and expression of ideas through written, oral, and visual communication.
- Teamwork: to include the ability to consider different points of view and to work effectively with others to support a shared goal or purpose.
- Social Responsibility: to include intercultural competence, knowledge of civic responsibility, and the ability to engage effectively in regional, national, and global communities.

Theatre 161 Learning Outcomes

At the completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Develop basic understanding of dramatic literature, dramatic theory and criticism, and performance from multiple perspectives (Critical Thinking);
- Develop their abilities to analyze, write about, and discuss performance, both informally and through formal presentation (Critical Thinking, Communication Skills);
• Learn functions of the various theatrical sub-disciplines and how they relate to each other in production, and the value and purpose of professional artistic collaboration (Teamwork);
• Learn a broad history of the theatre from ancient to modern, including non-traditional theatrical forms, theatre produced in non-Western cultures, and theatre for specific audiences (Social Responsibility).

REQUIRED TEXTS

The Arsonists, Max Frisch
Macbeth, William Shakespeare.
A Raisin in the Sun, Lorraine Hansberry.
Other Readings as Assigned.

You may obtain these books however you like (campus bookstore, library, Amazon, sharing, etc.) but you are responsible for having the reading done before each class period.

PRODUCTION DATES

Students in Theatre 161-08 MUST SEE BOTH OF THE FOLLOWING:

Biedermann and the Firebugs by Max Frisch, W.M. Turner Auditorium, February 27-March 3, 7:30 PM

A Festival of New American Plays by Various Authors, W.M. Turner Auditorium, April 24-28, 7:30 PM

Students in Theatre 161-08 MUST SEE ONE OF THE FOLLOWING:

Antigone in New York by Janusz Glowacki, Downstage Theatre, Friday, February 23, 7:30 PM, Saturday, February 24 at 2:00 PM and 7:30 PM

Haiku by Katherine Snodgrass, Downstage Theatre, Friday, March 23, 7:30 PM, Saturday, March 24 at 2:00 PM and 7:30 PM

Nice by Jane Shepard, Downstage Theatre, Friday, April 6 at 7:30 PM, Saturday, April 7 at 2:00 PM and 7:30 PM

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Please Note: All assignments not completed in class should be typed, double-spaced, in 12-point Times New Roman font. Margins should be standard. You will be required to turn in an electronic version of every assignment. Failure to meet these guidelines will result in a letter grade penalty.

1. Production Critiques (2 written assignments worth 30%)
As a part of this course, you are required to see both SFA Mainstage productions and one additional student production in the Downstage Theatre. Dates for these productions are listed in the syllabus and I will announce them again in class. You will be required to write critiques for two of the productions. Details about the length and content of the critiques will be discussed in class, and you will be given a detailed assignment sheet with guidelines. Critiques are graded both for content and for mechanics, so make sure you begin work early to give yourself time to revise. Each student will also receive a card to obtain tickets well in advance of the productions. A student who loses this card will be required to purchase tickets at the student rate. You are required to turn in one production critique before mid-semester.

2. Midterm Exam (15%)
I will discuss the exam in more detail in class as we approach it, but it will combine multiple choice, true/false, and short answer questions. In the event that you miss the midterm, I will give a make-up at the end of the semester ONLY with written documentation of a legitimate, excused absence. Make-up exams will be significantly more difficult than the in-class variety, and will consist predominantly of essay questions. During an exam, students are not permitted to leave the room for any reason. Once you leave, you’re done with the test. Additionally, use of a cell phone during an exam will result in failure.

3. Quizzes (5 quizzes worth 15%)
I do not like giving quizzes, but the reality I have discovered is that without them, no one does any of the reading assignments. You are expected to come to class regularly, having read any material assigned for that given day. If you’ve read/been in class, then the quizzes will be easy. Quizzes may only be made up with proper documentation of an absence.

4. Final Project (25%)
At the end of the course, you will be put into groups and tasked with creating a play. I will give you more specific guidelines as we get closer to the project, but you will all collaborate to write, design, direct, and perform a short piece that demonstrates your understanding of the material we have learned about in the course.

5. Class Participation and Lab Activities (15%)
Theatre is an interactive art form, and so many parts of this class will be interactive. You’ll be asked to participate in group discussions, present ideas, perform, and direct at various points during the class. Students who do not take in-class activities seriously, or who are disruptive or fail to participate will lose points. Additionally, you will receive points for seeing all three productions and turning your blue card back in to me. See Attendance and Course Citizenship below for more information.

Extra Credit
I will offer three possible extra credit assignments, and you may choose any ONE of them for up to five extra points on your final grade. You may not do more than one extra credit assignment. The three choices are: 1) You may see the LA Theatre; 2) You may participate in one of the department’s productions as an actor or technician and write an analysis of your contribution to the piece; 3) You may undertake an additional creative project in one of the areas we learn about (design, acting, directing, playwriting, history and criticism) and give a short (7-10 minute) presentation to the class on your work. Students wishing to undertake an extra credit assignment should notify me BEFORE midterm that they intend to do so.

COURSE POLICIES
Attendance, Participation, and Tardiness: Regular attendance in class is essential to understanding the material. You are allowed two unexcused absences, equivalent to one week of class time, without penalty. After that, the next two absences each result in a five-point deduction on your FINAL grade. After that, the next two absences each result in a ten-point deduction on your FINAL grade. Also, in accordance with School of Theatre policy, SEVEN ABSENCES IN A T/TR COURSE RESULTS IN AUTOMATIC FAILURE. THIS IS NON-NEGOTIABLE AND INCLUDES EXCUSED ABSENCES AS WELL AS UNEXCUSED.

Absences are excused if, and only if, you are absent because of illness, family emergency, or university business. You will be required to provide proper, official documentation of any absences in that instance. Additionally, you may make up missed quizzes and exams ONLY with proper documentation delivered as soon as possible.

I take attendance at the beginning of class; arriving more than ten minutes after class begins will result in your being marked absent. Additionally, if you arrive after I have taken attendance, it is your responsibility to check in with me after class.

The quizzes and exams require that you attend regularly in order to do well. In other words, if you miss class, expect to fail the quizzes and exams. While seven absences will result in failure, I do not otherwise (overtly) penalize you for missing class. I will not, however, meet with you to discuss what you missed. If you’re not in class, you should find a reliable classmate who is willing to bring you up to speed. Additionally, it is your responsibility to keep up with your absences.

Finally, a note on tardiness. I understand that occasionally emergencies may result in your being late to class. A pattern of chronic tardiness, however, is disrespectful and disruptive both to me and your fellow classmates. If you are habitually late for class, your participation grade will be docked. Additionally, if we are taking a quiz or an exam and you enter the classroom after I have already started handing them out, you will not be allowed to take it.

Course Citizenship: Sleeping, or reading other materials during class are not acceptable. You may bring drinks in containers that have a lid. All cell phones must be turned to silent prior to coming to class, and no text messaging or web surfing will be tolerated. If I see you look at a cell phone for any reason during class, I reserve the right to 1) play a game on my phone any time you want to meet with me about the course, and 2) dismiss you for the day and give you an absence, no matter how much class time is left. Also, if your phone rings during class, you may be similarly penalized.

I understand that many of you take notes on your laptop or tablet, and if you wish to do so you need to sit in the first two rows of the room. If I see that you’re using your computer for anything not directly related to class, you will be dismissed and given an absence, and you will not be allowed to continue using your computer for note-taking.

Please do not put your head down during class. If you’re so tired or sick that you need an in-class power nap, you shouldn’t be in class that day. Students putting their heads down, including during film showings, will be dismissed and given an absence.

Although students with disciplinary problems tend to be few and far between at the college level, if behavioral disruptions persist within a single class meeting (or, for that matter, across multiple meetings), the student in question will be asked to leave the class with an absence for the day.
Theatre Etiquette: As a part of this course, you are required to attend productions by the Stephen F. Austin State University Theatre Department. When attending these events, you are expected to follow proper theatre etiquette. This means that you must arrive on time and dressed appropriately. Additionally, students who are using a cell phone during the production, sleeping, or engaging in distracting behavior will not pass the course.

Succeeding in the Class: All written work will be submitted electronically via D2L. Assignments are due by class time on their due date. All files must be formatted in either .doc or .docx (compatible with Microsoft Word). I will not accept Rich Text Format, Word Perfect, or a PDF, for example.

Assignments are due on the day listed in the syllabus. Missed quizzes and exams can be made up ONLY with proper documentation of the reason for absence as listed above. Late papers are penalized one full letter grade for EACH CALENDAR DAY, NOT JUST CLASS DAYS that they are late.

TECHNOLOGY DISCLAIMER: TECHNOLOGY OFTEN FAILS. PREPARE YOUR WORK WELL IN ADVANCE OF THE DUE DATE, AS “MY COMPUTER CRASHED” OR “MY INTERNET STOPPED WORKING” ARE NOT VALID EXCUSES FOR AN ASSIGNMENT BEING LATE.

I realize there is a lot of information here, but you can boil it down to two things: 1) come to class and 2) take notes in class and when you read. PowerPoints are used only to enhance and structure lecture, so merely copying down what’s on the slide won’t be sufficient. Learning to take good notes is an essential skill for college and life, so practice now. I am happy to offer advice if you have questions.

Throughout the semester, you may meet with me at any time to discuss your work in the class. Please avail yourself of my office hours or set up an appointment with me. Email is also an easy way to receive an answer to a quick question. If you’re having trouble keeping up with the workload, with some concept we discuss, or any other aspect of the course, please let me know as soon as the trouble arises. It is much easier for me to help you in January than it is in May after most of the graded material is already past.

Class lectures may not be recorded or videoed without my express, written permission. Students violating this policy will not pass the course.

Academic Integrity: Adhering to academic integrity standards at all times by producing your own work and successfully attributing others’ ideas to them is a necessary aspect of university communication. Academic dishonesty includes both cheating and plagiarism. Cheating includes, but is not limited to: (1) using or attempting to use unauthorized materials to aid in achieving a better grade on a component of a class; (2) falsification or invention of any information, including citations, on an assignment; and/or (3) helping or attempting to help another in an act of cheating or plagiarism.

Plagiarism is presenting the words or ideas of another person as if they were your own. Examples of plagiarism include, but are not limited to: (1) submitting an assignment as if it were one’s own work when, in fact, it is at least partly the work of another; (2) submitting a work that has been purchased or otherwise obtained from the Internet or another source; and (3) incorporating the words or ideas of an author into one’s paper or presentation without giving the author due credit.
Any appeals on academic integrity cases must be made within thirty days after the first class day of the next long semester. Students should appeal to the instructor first then to the chair if the situation is not resolved. Further appeals can be made to the dean and provost if necessary.

Please read the complete policies at: http://www.sfasu.edu/policies/academic_integrity.asp and http://www.sfasu.edu/policies/academic-appeals-by-students.pdf.

Any instances of cheating/plagiarism will result in automatic failure of the assignment and may, at the instructor’s discretion, result in failure of the course.

Course Evaluations: Course evaluations will be available online near the end of the semester. I highly encourage you to take advantage of the opportunity to give feedback about how effective this class and my teaching was, particularly because I read evaluations to help make decisions about future classes. In other words, your feedback can help my future students have a good class experience.

Discrimination/Sexual Harassment: At Stephen F. Austin State University, no faculty, staff, or student may discriminate against another on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, age, national origin, disability or disabled veteran status, and such acts will not be permitted in this class. For additional information, consult Human Resources Policy E-46.

The Academic Assistance and Resource Center: The AARC offer free writing tutoring, which is available on a walk-in and appointment basis. They also offer online writing tutoring services and workshops about writing-related topics. For more information, go to http://library.sfasu.edu/aarc/, visit them on the first floor of the Steen Library, or call them at 936-468-4108.

Withheld Grades Policy (A-54): At the discretion of the instructor of record and with the approval of the academic chair/director, a grade of WH will be assigned only if the student cannot complete the course work because of unavoidable circumstances. Students must complete the work within one calendar year from the end of the semester in which they receive a WH, or the grade automatically becomes an F. If students register for the same course in future terms, the WH will automatically become an F and will be counted as a repeated course for the purpose of computing the grade point average.

Accommodations: To obtain disability related accommodations, alternate formats and/or auxiliary aids, students with disabilities must contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS), Human Services Building, and Room 325, 468-3004 / 468-1004 (TDD) as early as possible in the semester. Once verified, ODS will notify your instructors and outline the accommodation and/or auxiliary aids to be provided. Failure to request services in a timely manner may delay your accommodations, and no accommodations can be made except through the ODS. For additional information, go to http://www.sfasu.edu/disabilityservice

COURSE SCHEDULE
 This schedule is tentative. I reserve the right to change its contents and will post changes to D2L. ***

UNIT ONE: Aesthetics, Art, and Theatre
Week One: Course Introduction and Aesthetics
   Tuesday, January 16: Snow Day
   Thursday, January 18: Introduction to course
Week Two: Drama versus Theatre
Tuesday, January 23: Art and Aesthetics: Some Views and Theories
Thursday, January 25: Aristotle and the Elements of Drama
Read “Visit to a Small Planet” by Elinor Fuchs (D2L)

Week Three: Theatre Spaces and Audiences
Tuesday, January 30: Drama or Theatre?
Thursday, February 1: Theatre Spaces and Stage Types
Read A Raisin in the Sun by Lorraine Hansberry, QUIZ 1

UNIT TWO: Making a Play Today
Week Four: Theatre Companies
Tuesday, February 6: Audiences
Thursday, February 8: Theatre Companies: Academic, Professional, For-Profit, Non-Profit.

Week Five: Acting
Tuesday, February 13: The Actor’s Art
Thursday, February 15: Acting Lab

Week Six: Directing
Tuesday, February 20: The Director’s Art
Thursday, February 22: Directing Lab
Read The Arsonists by Max Frisch, QUIZ 2

Downstage Option One: Antigone in New York by Janusz Glowacki, Downstage Theatre, Friday, February 23, 7:30 PM, Saturday, February 24 at 2:00 PM and 7:30 PM

Week Seven: Design
Tuesday, February 27: Elements of Design: Costume, Lights, Sound, Set, SFX
Thursday, March 1: Design Lab
Read excerpt from The Dramatic Imagination by Robert Edmond Jones (D2L)

See Biedermann and the Firebugs by Max Frisch, W.M. Turner Auditorium, February 27-March 3, 7:30 PM

Week Eight: Technical Production and Practical Roles
Tuesday, March 6: Technical Theatre, Front of House
PRODUCTION CRITIQUE #1 DUE
Thursday, March 8: MIDTERM EXAM
LAST DAY TO DECLARE FOR EXTRA CREDIT ASSIGNMENT

SPRING BREAK. NO CLASS: March 10-March 18
UNIT THREE: Theatre Histories and Futures

Week Nine: Origins of Western Theatre
  Tuesday, March 20: Greek Theatre
  Thursday, March 22: Roman Theatre and Entertainment

Downstage Option Two: Haiku by Katherine Snodgrass, Downstage Theatre, Friday, March 23, 7:30 PM, Saturday, March 24 at 2:00 PM and 7:30 PM

Week Ten: Medieval, Renaissance, and Neoclassical Theatres
  Tuesday, March 27: Medieval Theatre, Shakespeare part I
  Thursday, March 29: Shakespeare part II, Neoclassical Theatre
    Read Macbeth by William Shakespeare, QUIZ 3

Week Eleven: Melodrama and Modernity
  Tuesday, April 3: The 19th Century, the 20th Century
  Thursday, April 5: 20th Century continued, The American Musical

Downstage Option Three: Nice by Jane Shepard, Downstage Theatre, Friday, April 6 at 7:30 PM, Saturday, April 7 at 2:00 PM and 7:30 PM

Week Twelve: Non-Western Theatre
  Tuesday, April 10: Non-Western Theatre
  Thursday, April 12: Theatre Futures, QUIZ 4

UNIT FOUR: Performance Beyond the Stage

Week Thirteen: Film and Television
  Tuesday, April 17: Film
  Thursday, April 19: Television

Week Fourteen: Performance Studies
  Tuesday, April 24: Performance Studies
  Thursday, April 26: Performance Studies, QUIZ 5

See A Festival of New American Plays by Various Authors, W.M. Turner Auditorium, April 24-28, 7:30 PM

Week Fifteen: Wrap-Up
  Tuesday, May 1: Work on final projects
  Thursday, May 3: Extra credit presentations and class wrap-up
    PERFORMANCE CRITIQUE #2 DUE
    EXTRA CREDIT ASSIGNMENTS DUE

FINAL PRESENTATIONS: Thursday, May 10, 10:30 A.M.—12:30 P.M.
I, _______________________________, certify that I have read and understand this entire syllabus and all of the course requirements and policies contained herein. Ignorance of information contained in the syllabus does not constitute a reasonable excuse for failure to comply with course policies.

Print name: _______________________________________________

Sign: ____________________________________________________

Date: ____________________________________________________