“Philosophy begins with wonder.
And at the end, when philosophic thought has done its best, the wonder remains.”
~ Alfred North Whitehead

I. COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course focuses on moral theories and issues, drawing on ideas from a variety of disciplines. During this semester we will examine moral theories regarding what is right and wrong, good and bad and apply them to contemporary moral issues. Most of us undoubtedly have beliefs regarding such matters already, even very strong ones. Thinking philosophically about contemporary moral issues, however, allows us to see how well-supported our beliefs are by reasoned argumentation, and this is why we examine those beliefs in light of philosophical moral theory, because moral theory just is an attempt at providing a rational framework within which to view important beliefs.

II. General Education Core Curriculum Objectives/Outcomes:

A. Students will demonstrate awareness of the scope and variety of texts dealing with various philosophical issues.

B. Students will demonstrate an understanding of the historical and social contexts of philosophical movements.

C. Students will demonstrate an ability to respond critically to works in philosophy.

D. Students will have participated in assignments requiring them to formulate, express, and support their opinions on the philosophical issues covered in the course. Students will have acquired knowledge of the cross-cultural influence of philosophy.

III. Problem Learning Outcomes:

When presented with a specific example of a moral dilemma, a student will be able to identify and explain the moral course of action according to (a) utilitarian ethical principles and (b) deontological ethical principles. This outcome include the ability to connect choices, actions and consequences to ethical decision-making.

IV. Exemplary Educational Objectives:

A. Awareness of the scope and variety of texts dealing with ethical issues.

B. Understanding of the historical and social contexts of philosophical movements in ethics.

C. Ability to respond critically to works in philosophy.

D. Ability to formulate, express, and support arguments on ethical issues.

E. Knowledge of the cross-cultural influence of philosophy.

“It is the mark of an educated mind to be able to entertain a thought without accepting it.” ~ Aristotle

V. Student Learning Outcomes and Assessment Assignment:

A. PHI 223 is part of the university's Core Curriculum. As such, the work assigned in this course recognizes the general goals of the core and the specific objectives attached to those classes designated for inclusion in the Language, Philosophy, and Culture Foundational Component Area as defined by the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.

B. Specifically, students enrolled in this course will demonstrate the general ability to:

1. Think critically, which includes the ability to analyze, evaluate, and synthesize information about specific philosophical concepts.

2. Communicate effectively by developing and expressing ideas through written and visual communication.

3. Gain intercultural competence, a knowledge of civic responsibility, and an awareness of how humans in the past have engaged effectively in regional, national, and global communities.

4. Understand the role that personal responsibility has played throughout history and gain the ability to connect choices, actions, and consequences to making ethical decisions.
C.

Assessment Assignment

1. To measure the success of student acquisition of these mandated skills, during the course of the semester, students will be assigned an Ethical Theory Essay. Generally speaking, the project will consist of students completing a written assignment that will compare and contrast two competing ethical theories introduced by the professor. Specifically, the instructor will provide the students with an ethical scenario that will allow for differing responses to flow from the use of each theory. Specific instructions of this assignment can be found in this syllabus. Completion of this assignment is required by the university and is an integral component in the successful completion of this course.

VI. Grade Policies, Course Requirements, & Testing Information:

A. Course Policies, Requirements, & Due Dates:

- 20% Mid-Term Exam (Exam # 1): 30 September
- 20% Ethical Essay: 3 November by 11:59 PM
- 20% Primo Levi: Ethical Themes: 20 October by 11:59 PM
- 20% Video Analysis: 17 November by 11:59 PM
- 20% Cumulative Final Exam (Exam # 2): 9 December

15 points participation in weekly classroom debates.

“Theory can blind observation.” ~ Carol Gilligan

B. Attendance is expected. A complete attendance report may be filed with the student’s dean and the registrar with the final course grade. In fact, more than one absence, whether excused or unexcused, means you will receive a final grade of “F” for this course.

Please do not miss class! In view of your interests, too much is at stake.

C. All students are required to be present for announced exams. Any missed exam without a cogent documented excuse will be counted numerically as a zero (00). This is considerably lower than an average F.

D. Because of the nature of these exams over assigned readings and lecture material, it is in your best interest to attend every class and proactively engage material, especially since each exam counts 20% towards your final grade.

E. There are a number of resources for your class on D2L. Therefore, after every lecture I highly encourage you to review the resources provided for you on D2L.

F. Class Projects: Nearly every class we will take time do a class project over an ethical controversy, dilemma, moral/social problem, or situation. They could be real, historically or socially based, or fictional. They are designed to promote critical thinking about moral issues. Therefore, your participation in these weekly projects is demanded. In fact, lack of qualitative participation could result in a complete loss of 15 points on your final exam no matter your score. So, these points are yours to lose:

1. Guidelines:
   a. Your name will be called to choose ethical topic from “cookie jar.”
   b. Class will be divided into groups and debate all positions. Come to a group conclusion. Be ready to share with the rest of the class.
   c. Each group will decide what is best answer in dealing with this controversy, dilemma, or moral/social problem.
   d. At all times everyone is to be respectful of each other and professor. No discrimination, intimidation, or attack on person. If so, a complete loss of 15 points on final exam
   e. Be mindful of each other’s worldview; seek to understand each other.
   f. Justify all of your truth-claims or positions taken. Know not only what you believe, but also why you believe what you believe. Thinking with Excellence will assist you in knowing how to justify your positions.
   g. No doing homework or other work in class while doing these projects. If so, a complete loss of 15 points off of final exam.
   h. Demonstrate the art of conversation.

G. If you are having difficulties understanding ethics, I encourage you to do the following:

1. Visit with me (early on; not last minute)
2. Ask questions in class
3. Study resources on D2L
4. Review your study habits
5. Form study groups with fellow students
6. Apply skills from Thinking with Excellence
7. Go to AARC in SFA Library
8. Review exam material with me in my office

I want to see each of you succeed in this class!
H. Required Book:

1. Louis P. Pojman, How Should We Live? An Introduction to Ethics (Belmont, CA: Wadsworth Publishing, 2004). ISBN-10: 0534556574. This book will be needed for both mid-term and final. It is available not only in SFA bookstore, but also used or for rent on Amazon. Also, copy is available at SFA library in library reserves.

2. Primo Levi, Survival in Auschwitz (CreateSpace Independent Publishing Platform, 2012). ISBN-10: 1479125776. This book will be required to complete a paper assignment. It is available not only in SFA bookstore, but also on Amazon in both print and kindle (e-version). Also, copy is available at SFA library in library reserves.

“We are what we repeatedly do. Excellence, then, is not an act, but a habit.”
~ Aristotle

F. Exam Information:

1. Each exam may involve multiple choice, matching, true/false questions, short discussion, and/or essay. Please bring pencil & 882 E scantron. For final exam bring 882 E scantron and number 2 pencil.

2. Each exam will cover lecture material and assigned readings as dictated on course schedule or as directed by professor.

3. I may add additional required readings as deemed appropriate. I will inform you if the additional material will be added to quizzes or exams when I distribute the material in class.

4. Take good notes. Recordings are not allowed.

5. Any student who has to miss the mid-semester exam must personally contact me with a cogent documented excuse to re-take the exam within two class days. If you miss the final exam, contact me to take the exam immediately; otherwise, you receive no credit for the exam (00). I will rarely accept any missed exam. Do not miss these exams.

6. We will have a required roundtable discussion of Primo Levi’s Survival in Auschwitz. This will be a student led roundtable discussion whereby you will interact with one another about the ethical issues in this book, asking if the actions that took place at Auschwitz are morally wrong? How do we even evaluate such moral actions? Upon what basis?
Nearly every class we will have a contemporary ethical discussion about some type of moral problem or weighty issue. How well we navigate through those topics will largely be dependent on our ability to master the necessary skills from Thinking with Excellence, chapters 3-8, 11-13 and a mutual understanding of each other’s worldviews.

“Principles without traits are impotent but traits without principles are blind.” ~ William Frankena

G. Ethical Essay Assignment:

1. This project consists of developing a written assignment that will compare and contrast two competing theories introduced by the professor. Specifically, the instructor will provide the students with an ethical scenario that will allow for differing responses to flow from the use of each theory.

2. Student Directions:

   Toward the latter half of the semester you will have been already introduced to a number of different ethical theories. As a result, it will be time to demonstrate your critical engagement with these theories through a written document. You will be given directions of an ethical scenario that I will devise, and you will need to read this scenario in order to complete the assignment.

3. Overall, the assignment will be a five-seven page essay (excluding cover sheet and bibliography) that is stylistically clean, displays correct internal citation of information, and include a works cited page.

4. In terms of purpose, your essay will accomplish the following:

   a. After reading the scenario, you are to provide a critical discussion in which you identify and explain each of the ethical theories you have been assigned to apply to this scenario, recognize how each of these theories would require you to act in this context, and what the result would be from such actions. (This will tie to the Written Communication and Critical Thinking rubrics)

   b. Then, you are to decide FIRST which of the two theories you find to be more personally reasonable (thus highlighting such issues as ethical self-awareness) and SECOND which of the theories do you find more inter-culturally reasonable (thus highlighting cultural self-awareness as it may or may not be tied to civic responsibility). (This will tie to the

c. Finally, as the conclusion to the essay, you are required to provide a photograph that depicts someone acting in accordance with each of the specific ethical theories. Under each picture, you will provide a written paragraph in which you analyze the image and explain how the action in the photo is an embodiment of the theory. (This will tie to the Written Communication rubric and includes the visual element which has been integrated into the written communication submission)

d. As you can see from the description, this assignment interconnects with the Core Curriculum Objectives and will be used as part of the core assessment process. Therefore, you need to make yourself familiar with and work towards accomplishing those goals found on the rubrics for Critical Thinking, Written Communication, Personal Responsibility, and Social Responsibility; these rubrics can be found at: http://www.sfasu.edu/acadaffairs/114.asp. These rubrics will be used to assess your essay.

e. *Ethical scenarios that are used as part of this instrument will be developed by individual instructors and thus no single scenario exists. In fact, scenarios may shift from semester to semester to help deter plagiarism.

f. Here you will need to demonstrate the ability to connect choices, actions, and consequences to ethical decision-making.

g. This work is to be done in your words. All sources must be properly cited. Plagiarism, which is your responsibility to know what it is and how to avoid it, is totally unacceptable. Strict plagiarism policy is upheld. No “cut-in-paste” from internet. This paper is to be uploaded to D2L. No extensions, exemptions, or exceptions.

h. By enrolling in Introduction to Ethics you are also enrolling in a Core Curriculum Course that fulfills the Personal Responsibility requirement. You will see this course on your D2L list. This paper will fulfill both the requirements of this course and the needs of Stephen F. Austin State University's Core Curriculum Assessment Plan with the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board. When you complete this one assignment, you need to upload the assignment to both your standard course dropbox determined by your Instructor and the "Core Curriculum" dropbox. The Core Curriculum dropbox will be identified by the Objective for which work is being collected. (Examples: Critical Thinking, Teamwork, Social Responsibility Empirical & Quantitative Skills, Responsibility, Communication Skills-Written, Communication Skills-Written & Visual, and Communication Skills-Oral & Visual.) Please note that this only applies to the approved assignment. All other assignments should be submitted according to regular class operations.

When you complete the assignment mentioned above, you will upload the assignment to both the Introduction to Ethics dropbox and the Personal Responsibility dropbox on D2L.

Please note that this only applies to the specific assignment. All other assignments should be submitted according to regular class operations.

If you have any questions, please see your instructor, or contact the Office of Student Learning and Institutional Assessment at (936) 468-1130.

H. Ethical Themes Paper: In this 5-7 page paper (excluding cover sheet and bibliography/works cited) you will examine and explain the ethical issues Primo Levi experienced during his time in Auschwitz. Here you will study what those moral decisions were, how he and others faced them, and consider what ways they impact your own worldview. Paper is to be uploaded to D2L. No extensions, exemptions, or exceptions.

Size font 12; cover sheet; works cited; one inch margins. Double space.

“People almost invariably arrive at their beliefs not on the basis of proof but on the basis of what they find attractive.” ~ Blaise Pascal

I. Video Analysis Paper:

In this 5 to 7 page paper (excluding cover sheet and bibliography-if needed) you will have one of three video debates to watch and critique (in your own words) using resources provided for you from Thinking with Excellence. These videos are posted on D2L with working links.

- The first debate is between noted theist William Lane Craig vs. famed atheist Paul Kurtz: Is Goodness Without God Good Enough? This debate took place at Franklin & Marshall College. This debate is 1:39 long. This paper is to be uploaded to D2L. You will find link on D2L. This paper

- The second debate is Oxford scholar and theist John Lennox vs. attorney and professor Michael Shermer: “The Nature of Evil and Suffering at Pepperdine University” (November 2013). The debate is 1:32 long. You will find this link on D2L. Paper is to be uploaded on D2L by class deadline.

- The third debate is Does God Exist between William Lane Craig vs. late antitheist Christopher Hitchens. This 4 April 2009 debate took place at Biola University in California. This debate is 2.12 hours long. You will find link on D2L. This paper is to be uploaded to D2L by class deadline.

- Choose one of these three debates to critique; no need to critique more than one debate.

- Do not plagiarize or zero will result in analysis paper.

- If you have trouble with any of these links, you can search for the debates on youtube using names, titles, and time.

VII. GENERAL RULES:

A. No use of cell-phones, text-messaging, games, I-Pods (or equivalent), social utilities, or internet in class. No use of any technological device (unless ADA) that may be a distraction to the learning process. Laptops used exclusively for class-notes are acceptable. Please silence cell-phones before class. If you use the computer for other purposes than taking notes, then you will be asked to leave class. No texting in class (only at breaks).

B. No smoking or use of tobacco will be permitted in the classroom.

C. All university rules governing academic dishonesty will apply.

D. Lectures may not be taped, recorded, or video transcribed.

E. No reading of newspapers, magazine, kindle books, and other materials for other classes.

I. Respect your classmates and professor.

J. If you have to step out to the restroom be sure to do so quietly.

K. Do not bring attention to yourself.

1. Attendance is expected. In fact, more than one absent, whether excused or unexcused, means you will receive a final grade of “F” for this course.

2. I will be taking attendance at beginning of class. It is imperative that you be present and on-time.
3. If you are late to class you must inform me at end of class or you will be counted as absent.

4. If you are more than fifteen minutes late to my class, then you will be counted as absent.

5. If you are gone more than 15 minutes from class, then you will be counted as absent.

6. If you do any other work than ethics in this class, you will be counted as absent for that day. NO OTHER WORK IS TO BE DONE IN THIS CLASS!

6. For every three times you are tardy to class (under 15 minutes), your excessive tardiness will be counted as one absence.

7. Classroom behavior should not interfere with the instructor's ability to conduct the class or the ability of other students to learn from the instructional program (see the Student Conduct Code, policy D-34.1). Unacceptable or disruptive behavior will not be tolerated. Students who disrupt the learning environment may be asked to leave class and may be subject to judicial, academic or other penalties. This prohibition applies to all instructional forums, including electronic, classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The instructor shall have full discretion over what behavior is appropriate / inappropriate in the classroom. Students who do not attend class regularly or who perform poorly on class projects/exams may be referred to the Early Alert Program. This program provides students with recommendations for resources or other assistance that is available to help SFA students succeed.

VIII. HOW TO DO WELL IN THIS COURSE:

A. Carefully read assigned work. Proactively bombard your assigned readings with the following questions: why, where, what, when, who, and so what?

B. Consider making an outline of the major units of thought in your readings. As you formulate your outline from the reading, ask yourself the following question: "What do I see?" The more observations you make, the better your interpretation of the author's position or claim may be. Afterwards ask, "What does it mean?"

C. After you outline the author's position/claim go back and see what arguments are being provided to support that position or claim. Keep asking yourself, "What is the issue?" Then consider what objections can be raised against that issue, position, or claim. Lastly, what replies can be given to defend the position or claim?

D. You should consult with me as often as possible to make sure you are understanding the material. Do not wait until the day before a test to begin studying. This is not the kind of course for which you can cram and expect to do well. Take advantage of the office hours.

E. Consider forming study groups to prepare for quizzes and exams.

F. Those who sit front and central statistically do better on their exams.

G. Try to read when you are at your best (e.g., if you are a “morning person”, then make a way to study philosophy in the morning and not late at night).

H. Make sure you are able to contact another student for lecture material in case you happen to miss a class (es).

L. Eight Strategies for First-Rate Studying:

   Read Thoughtfully
   Read Repeatedly
   Read Patiently
   Read Selectively
   Read Imaginatively
   Read Purposefully
   Read Acquisitively
   Read Telescopically

If you want to improve your reading comprehension skills I would encourage you to purchase Mortimer J. Adler's informative work, How to Read a Book.

M. 10 maxims I encourage you to inculcate into your life in order to achieve academic success:

1. Be focused! Your energy, time, and discipline need to be bent on becoming the very best. Focus on what really counts. Do not allow yourself to become diverted by the trivial and unimportant.

2. Be holistic! Pro-actively make decisions and pursue interests in your daily life that will assist you in obtaining success. Your resources must always be redirected to your goal.

3. Be undivided! Do not separate one are of your life from another. Pursuing opposing interests may marginalize your success because it divides up your energy, time, resources, and attention.

4. Be determined! Academic progress is rough, ever so time-consuming, and ever so demanding. Meet every demand with a determination for excellence. Learn from your mistakes. Pick yourself up when you fail and press on!

5. Be resilient! Do not give up. You will perhaps fail some time or another during your program. You may even become depress from the critical feedback you receive from your professors and peers. When those times come, and they do for most if not all, you must pick yourself up again—for accomplishing the goal is worth facing seemingly insurmountable obstacles.

6. Be sacrificial! Purposefully let go of those things that will hinder your success. Willfully discard every hindrance and degenerative influence that will keep you from achieving your goal with a passion for excellence. Routinely examine your life and see what is encouraging or discouraging you from reaching excellence.

7. Be healthy! Realize, as Aristotle states, that one area of your life impacts all other areas, whether intellectual, physical, or moral. Take very tender care of your mind, soul, and body. You need to strive to be holistically healthy—for if you are not mentally, physically, and spiritually healthy, then you may easily become fatigued, develop inner angst, regret, disappointment, and waiver in the completion of your goals. Remember, a good night sleep is one of the best things you can do for yourself.

8. Be supported! Cultivate a network of people who will exhort you to succeed! Develop relationships with peers who are also bent on achieving success.

9. Be excellent! Successful students realize the importance of cultivating a disposition, i.e., an inner character, which desires intellectual and moral excellence. Seek to desire excellence. Aristotle encourages us to do deeds of excellence until excellence becomes habitual in our personhood.

10. Be balanced! Learn how to balance “having fun” with “hard work.” Don’t ignore those opportunities to relax or play hard. In fact, pursue them! But do not allow those opportunities to displace your study opportunities. Remember, learning is pleasurable!

One of the dangers for those who do achieve success is the problem of malnourishment. Successful people may reach their long-term goals, but so many of them starve themselves in the process. Do not so focus on your goals that you miss out on dynamic opportunities that can nourish your person, inform your circumstance, grow your character, and enlarge your world. In other words, do not so focus on the future that you neglect the blessings that are right in front of you. Go forth and seize each and every day with a passion for excellence!

IX. CLASS SCHEDULE, TOPICS, & ASSIGNED READING:

Depending upon class context, I may alter our readings and topics. Notwithstanding, follow this outline unless otherwise directed by professor. Sometimes I may ask you to re-read certain chapters or portions from required readings or articles.

“When you look into an abyss, the abyss also looks into you.”
~Friedrich Nietzsche

X. OTHER IMPORTANT MATTERS:

A. Topics, Assignments, Tests, Reading Materials, and Office Hours are subject to change per professor's discretion.

B. I'm here for you. It is best to contact me by e.mail shockleypr@sfasu.edu to make an office appointment.

C. Earn a Certificate of Applied Ethics! After you complete this course with a C or above, all you need are three more courses and you can receive a “Certificate of Applied Ethics!” When you earn this certificate (9 more hours is all you need), this achievement will also be officially noted on your official transcript. Here are more details...

1. The Certificate in Applied Ethics is based on an interdisciplinary curriculum that both supports and extends a student’s major and offers students an enhanced ability to evaluate ethical issues related to their major filed or future profession. An examination of morality and ethical theory fused with disciplines such as public administration, sciences and more offers students a deeper understanding of how to pursue a career or conduct research in their primary field of study. Ethical decision-making and critical thinking are essential skills for students applying to graduate schools.

2. Students will take size hours of required course in PHI 223 Introduction to Ethics (this course) and PHI 323 Ethical Theory, and six hours of approved electives. Our certificate includes a theoretical basis for understanding ethics, and students who pursue it will complete a project that integrates their study of ethics with their future career plans (e.g., business; education; forestry; human resources; medicine; military; speech-language therapy; social work).

3. Sign up today! Contact the Division of Multidisciplinary Programs at 936-468-6537.

XII. STUDENT ETHICS AND OTHER POLICY INFORMATION:

A. Student Ethics and Other Policy Information can be found at http://www.sfasu.edu/policies/

B. Class Attendance and Excused Absence: Policy 6.7:

1. Given nature of class, only one absence is allowed, whether excused or unexcused. Official documentation will be required for excused absence.

2. Regular, punctual attendance, documented participation, and, if indicated in the syllabus, submission of completed assignments are expected at all classes, laboratories, and other activities for which the student is registered.

3. Based on university policy, failure of students to adhere to these requirements shall influence the course grade, financial assistance, and/or enrollment status. The instructor shall maintain an accurate record of each student's attendance and participation as well as note this information in required reports (including the first 12 day attendance report) and in determining final grades.

4. Students may be excused from attendance for reasons such as health, family emergencies, or student participation in approved university-sponsored events. However, students are responsible for notifying their instructors in advance, when possible, for excusable absences.

5. Whether absences are excused or unexcused, a student is still responsible for all course content and assignments. Students with accepted excuses may be permitted to make up work for up to three weeks of absences during a semester or one week of a summer term, depending on the nature of the missed work. Make-up work must be completed as soon as possible after returning from an absence.

D. Academic Accommodation for Students with Disabilities: Policy 6.1 and 6.6:

To obtain disability related accommodations, alternate formats and/or auxiliary aids, students with disabilities must contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS), Human Services Building, and Room 325, 936-468-3004 as early as possible in the semester. Once verified, ODS will notify the course instructor and outline the accommodation and/or auxiliary aids to be provided. Failure to request services in a timely manner may delay your accommodations. For additional information, go to http://www.sfasu.edu/disabilityservices/

E. Student Academic Dishonesty: Policy 4.1:

Abiding by university policy on academic integrity is a responsibility of all university faculty and students. Faculty members must promote the components of academic integrity in their instruction, and course syllabi are required to provide information about penalties for cheating and plagiarism, as well as the appeal process.

F. Definition of Academic Dishonesty:

1. Academic dishonesty includes both cheating and plagiarism. Cheating includes, but is not limited to: using or attempting to use unauthorized materials on any class assignment or exam; falsifying or inventing of any information, including citations, on an assignment; helping or attempting to help another in an act of cheating or plagiarism.

2. Plagiarism is presenting the words or ideas of another person as if they were one's own. Examples of plagiarism include, but are not limited to:
   a. submitting an assignment as one's own work when it is at least partly the work of another person;
   b. submitting a work that has been purchased or otherwise obtained from the Internet or another source;
   c. incorporating the words or ideas of an author into one's paper or presentation without giving the author credit.

G. Penalties for Academic Dishonesty:

At the discretion of the instructor of record and with the approval of the academic unit head, a grade of WH will be assigned only if the student cannot complete the course work because of unavoidable circumstances. Students must complete the work within one calendar year from the end of the semester in which they receive a WH, or the grade automatically becomes an F, except as allowed through policy [i.e., Active Military Service (6.14)]. If students register for the same course in future semesters, the WH will automatically become an F and will be counted as a repeated course for the purpose of computing the grade point average.

J. Student Code of Conduct: Policy 10.4:

Classroom behavior should not interfere with the instructor’s ability to conduct the class or the ability of other students to learn from the instructional program. Unacceptable or disruptive behavior will not be tolerated. Students who disrupt the learning environment may be asked to leave class and may be subject to judicial, academic or other penalties. This policy applies to all instructional forums, including electronic, classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The instructor shall have full discretion over what behavior is appropriate/inappropriate in the classroom. Students who do not attend class regularly or who perform poorly on class projects/exams may be referred to the iCare: Early Alert Program at SFA.
