Advanced Filmmaking
Fall 2020

Class: Tuesday-Thursday 8:00am –10:40am, 318 E Starr Ave (Film Bldg.)
Instructor: Sherwood Jones, (Sherwood1138@gmail.com)
Phone: (818) 694-0448
Office Hours: M 10am – noon; TWTh 10am-12:30pm , Also meetings can be scheduled by appointment in person or zoom, Room 208, Film Bldg.

Course Description: Advanced Filmmaking is a repeatable class where advanced creative production techniques and storytelling are taught. The class is time consuming, demanding and should be regarded as a class leading to a professional career. Through individual productions, students will be advised of deficiencies that conflict with professional requirements. If these deficiencies are not corrected, the student will not be given a permit to continuing this course of study. During the semester, emphasis will be placed on production.

Expense: The costs associated with a film production is dependent on 1) the nature of the film produced and 2) the resources available to the student. Depending on these factors, a film student should expect to spend between $50-$500 on their film projects.

Required Software/Hardware: External Hard drive, 500GB(minimum), 7200rpm, USB 3.0. Editing computers are available for student use, but if desired, students may have editing software on their home computers, such as Adobe Premiere Pro, Da Vinci Resolve, Avid Media Composer, or Apple Final Cut Pro.

Grades:
Grades are determined on the following breakdown:

Individual Film Project:
  Rough Cut: 20%
  Locked Cut: 20%
  Finished Film: 20%
  Midterm exam & final: 20%
  In-class presentation: 20%

In addition to the breakdown illustrated above, the number of times a student has taken the class, as well as the student's professional growth shown through his or her films is considered when formulating a student's final grades.

Failure of the student to deliver a final version of their Individual Film Project on the allotted due date (per the calendar) will result in a failing grade.

Class attendance: Attendance/participation in this class is mandatory and will be recorded. Three (3) absences will result in a student’s final grade lowered by one letter grade. Four (4) absences will result in a failing grade. A student displaying numerous late arrivals or leaving the class early will be recorded as absent.

Class Periods: Filmmaking is a time-consuming major. In addition to the class periods reflected above, the student should also be prepared to spend between 10-30 hours a week outside of class participating in the preparation, production, and post-production of film projects - theirs, as well as those of their fellow students.
Projects: All 4352 A-level students (i.e. students who are taking this class for the first time) will produce and direct a short film. The short film should be between 5 to 15 minutes in length, including credits. Throughout the semester, the student will show various iterations of their short film for group and instructor critique. This consists of four steps, each of which is presented in class:

ROUGH CUT of film. The rough cut is just that – a rough, edited compiling of the film story as scripted that includes all the scenes shot with synced sound. Suggestions will be made by the instructor and fellow students pertaining to the editing and if additional scenes or reshoots need to take place. Student should take note of the suggestions offered and apply them where they feel necessary.

LOCKED CUT of the film. This is the proposed final edit. Suggestions are made for possible trims or sound design, but the object is to have a true PICTURE LOCK, with no additional scenes shot, added, or removed. Picture editing is done, and it's off to sound editing, mixing, and color.

WORK IN PROGRESS. The student will screen their short film with all audio/video adjustments – motion graphics, special effects, title sequences, color correction, foley (sound), ADR, and sound mix. Suggestions will be made by the instructor and fellow students pertaining to the items listed above.

FINISHED FILM. The finished product will be submitted to the instructor at the assigned date and will screen for the public on the assigned date. All versions of the student’s film will be submitted as a digital copy via online upload (detailed instructions will be covered in class and made available via D2L).

BINDER: In addition to the film, the student must also turn in a film production binder/folder containing the following items: script breakdown, shot sheet, camera log, location release, actor releases, and, where applicable, music releases and artwork releases.

NOTE: If creative commons/royalty-free music is used, please print the CC documents and include it with your film binder/folder, as well as in the credit of the film). The binder is due on the Friday before the final cut date of the film project. I will evaluate and grade the binder and get it back to you the next class period. Any student that does not complete a film binder/folder for each project will be penalized by having their final grade lowered by one letter grade.

PROJECT REQUIREMENTS
Film projects must be either a narrative short film (live action, animation, experimental) or a documentary short. Music videos and film trailers will not be accepted. No constraint will be given to the crew members chosen (i.e. they DO NOT have to come from within this class, but it’s recommended that they do). You should all work together and learn to trust one another. No constraint will be given to the cameras/lenses used in your projects (feel free to use your own camera, rent lenses, etc. but use precaution – the technical quality of your film is a big part of your grade).

Audio students from the Sound Recording Technology will participate in the on-set recording and post-production mix of no less than two short films made by students in this class.

All D-level students and up (i.e. students who have taken ART 412 at least once previously) can, if they wish, opt-out of making their own short film for their class project and instead select one of the following options, depending on their desired area of expertise:

(1) Write a feature-length narrative script, minimum of 80 pages.
(2) Serve as Director of Photography, Art Director, Production Manager, or Assistant Director on at least 3 short films. In the case of DP, Art Director, or Editor, student is to deliver a reel displaying their work as final project.

Exams:
Two exams (one exams & a comprehensive final) will be given.

IN-CLASS PRESENTATION
Students taking this class for the second time or beyond are to declare a specialization or area of interest, such as cinematographer, editor, director, producer, etc. Each student is to prepare and deliver an oral presentation about their area of interest (with or without powerpoint slides and/or film clips) that is minimum 15 minutes in length. It can be done from an artistic, technical, or historic approach. In the case of directing, the student's topic may analyze a specific film, or a number of films made by the same director.

Safety:
Filmmaking can be a dangerous profession. On set injuries and, in some cases, death has occurred due to negligence and ignorance of basic safety protocol. Students should be aware of the dangers of the equipment being used and take steps to protect themselves and their cast and crew. The use of real firearms, explosives, fireworks, and electrical tie-ins are strictly prohibited and will result in a failing grade for this class and expulsion from the film program. The use of prop/toy guns may be used, but they must be stored and used off campus. If you’re using the prop gun in a public area the local authorities must be informed. All stunts including, but not limited to, vehicle stunts, fight scenes, and drug use must be presented to the instructor for approval prior to the stunt being performed. In some cases, the University safety officer may need to be present during the scene to ensure cast and crew safety.

COVID 19 PROTOCOLS
Masks (cloth face coverings) must be worn over the nose and mouth at all times in this class and appropriate physical distancing must be observed. Students not wearing a mask and/or not observing appropriate physical distancing will be asked to leave the class. All incidents of not wearing a mask and/or not observing appropriate physical distancing will be reported to the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities. Students who are reported for multiple infractions of not wearing a mask and/or not observing appropriate physical distancing may be subject to disciplinary actions.

S.F.A. Class Attendance and Excused Absence Policies
Class Attendance: Regular and punctual attendance is expected for all classes, laboratories, and other activities for which a student is registered. Attendance policies shall be stated in the syllabus. For those classes where attendance is a factor in the course grade, an accurate record of attendance shall be maintained. Regardless of attendance, the student is responsible for course content and assignments.

Excused Absences: Students may be excused from attendance for reasons such as health, family emergencies, or student participation in approved university-sponsored events. However, students are responsible for notifying their instructors in advance, when possible, for excusable absences. Students are responsible for providing satisfactory documentation in a timely manner to the instructor for each absence. Whether absences are excused or unexcused, a student is still responsible for all course content and assignments. Students with acceptable excuses may be permitted to make up work for a maximum of three weeks’ worth of absences during a semester or one week of a summer term, depending on the nature of the missed work. Make up work must be completed as soon as possible after returning from an absence in accordance with the course syllabus. In the case of absences caused by participation in university-sponsored events, announcement via my SFA will constitute official notification. Faculty members sponsoring activities that require their students to be absent from other classes must submit to the provost and vice president for academic affairs an explanation of the absence, including the date, time and an alphabetical listing of all attending students. If approved by the provost and vice president for academic affairs, this information will be posted on mySFA.
S.F.A. Academic Integrity Policy Definition of Academic Dishonesty: Academic dishonesty includes both cheating and plagiarism. Cheating includes, but is not limited to: 1. Using or attempting to use unauthorized materials to aid in achieving a better grade on a component of a class: 2. Falsification or invention of any information, including citations, on an assignment: and/or: 3. Helping or attempting to help another in an act of cheating or plagiarism. Plagiarism is presenting the words or ideas of another person as if they were your own. Examples of plagiarism include, but are not limited to: 1. Submitting an assignment as if it were one’s own work when, in fact, it is at least partly the work of another: 2. Submitting a work that has been purchased or otherwise obtained from the Internet or another source, and: 3. Incorporating the words or ideas of an author into one’s paper or presentation without giving the author due credit.

Procedure for Addressing Student Academic Dishonesty: A faculty member who has evidence and/or suspects that academic dishonesty has occurred shall gather all pertinent information, approach the student(s) involved, and initiate the following procedure:

1. The faculty member shall review all evidence of cheating or plagiarism and discuss it directly with the student(s) involved. The faculty member shall inform the student(s) of the procedure for addressing academic dishonesty, as well as the appeals process. 2. After hearing the student(s)’ explanation or defense, the faculty member will determine whether or not academic dishonesty has occurred and will inform the student(s) what action will be taken. Penalties may include reprimand, no credit for the assignment or exam, resubmission of the work, make-up exam, or failure of the course. The faculty member may consult with the academic unit chair/director and dean in making these decisions.

3. After a determination of academic dishonesty, the faculty member shall notify the office of the dean of the student’s major by submitting a Report of Academic Dishonesty, along with supporting documentation as noted on the form. This report shall be made part of the student’s record and shall remain on file with the dean’s office for at least four years.

4. Upon second or subsequent offenses, the dean of the student’s major will determine a course of action, which may include dismissal from the university. The dean may refer the case to the college council for review and recommendations before making this determination. A student’s record of academic dishonesty will not be available to faculty members. The purpose of the record is for the dean to track a pattern of academic dishonesty during a student’s academic career at Stephen F. Austin State University. Students who are found to have demonstrated academic dishonesty and have withdrawn prior to the award of a grade will continue to have the determination of the infraction within their student records.

Student Appeals: A student who wishes to appeal decisions related to academic integrity should follow procedures outlined in Academic Appeals of Students (A-2). To see the complete policy, go to: http://www.sfasu.edu/policies/academic_integrity.asp
