Instructor: Dr. Sue B. Whatley

Office: LAN 259 Ph.:468-2031; e-mail swhatley@sfasu.edu

Office Hours Fall 2020
- Tuesday: 10:00 a.m.—12:00 p.m. ONLINE ONLY
- Wednesday: 1:00 p.m.—4:00 p.m. ONLINE ONLY

Face-to-face office appointments may be requested, but we will only do face to face as a last resort. Phone and Zoom conferences will be the first approach for private conferences.

Class Schedule:
- ENG 1302.503 Full Semester ONLINE COURSE
- ENG 1302.505 Full Semester ONLINE COURSE
- ENG 1302.506 F1 ONLINE COURSE

English 1302 LIVE CHATS: Tuesday 10:00-11:00 a.m.
(If you cannot make the live chat, it can be made up in the discussion board. If you are able to attend, however, you will find the sessions are a great opportunity to connect with the professor and your classmates.)

This course meets online, but if it becomes necessary to meet face to face for any reason (including office appointments, the following policy will apply:

COVID-19 MASK POLICY Masks (cloth face coverings) must be worn over the nose and mouth at all times in this class and appropriate physical distancing must be observed. Students not wearing a mask and/or not observing appropriate physical distancing will be asked to leave the class. All incidents of not wearing a mask and/or not observing appropriate physical distancing will be reported to the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities. Students who are reported for multiple infractions of not wearing a mask and/or not observing appropriate physical distancing may be subject to disciplinary actions.

Texts:

Description:

ENG 1302.506. “Research and Argumentation” (3 credits; fully online) meets online for eight weeks during the semester as well as during finals week. Students complete weekly topical readings as well as writing and discussion activities related to those readings. Students write a minimum of four essays with a total page count of at least eighteen pages of finished writing. Emphasis is placed on writing and research processes, including multiple drafts and short assignments that require generating, revising and editing writing. Students conduct more library and online research than what is required in ENG 1301. Finals week is typically spent completing final edits of one or more of the essays. This course will cover the same amount of material as the fifteen-week class. These activities average 18 hours of work each week, as in a normal semester, we average 9 per week. You may be able to do the reading and writing in less time, but I do want you to realize that you are not doing less work. Instead, you will be compressing the time you do the course—so plan accordingly, and realize that the time compression will—likely—make the class more intense.

ENG 1302, Research and Argument, offers continued study and application of the writing process and the skills of writing with a focus on the forms of argumentative writing and on research methods, such as gathering, evaluating, summarizing, synthesizing and citing source information. Prerequisite: C in English 1301. Must earn a C or higher to be admitted to any English 200-level course.” SFASU College Bulletin.

Additional Course Description:

English 1302 is the second half of freshman composition. In English 1301 students were introduced to the ideas of drafting, revising, editing, research, and critical thinking through writing. English 1302 continues to build on those skills. The first part of English 1302 considers the components of critical reading and argumentation; students focus on analyzing and interpreting a set of essays and how they relate to one another. These skills then are applied to researching and documentation, and discovering how different sources interact with each other, even though the authors may disagree. The final part of the course requires longer, researched argumentative essays meant to demonstrate the skills students have learned in both English 1301 and 1302.

English 1302 covers all aspects of writing concerning critical analysis, argumentation, and research/reports. The 1302 student will gather, read, summarize, and synthesize---in general utilize---information from various sources about given contemporary topics; students will then incorporate this information into literate, rhetorically-controlled responses (essays and research papers) which indicate their awareness of varying audiences and methods of argumentation. As opposed to English 1301, English 1302 begins to focus on more college-oriented skills. English 1302 is more rigorous and demanding. As such, I have designed this course to stretch students’ reading comprehension, information literacy, composition, and critical thinking skills. This section of English 1302 is designed for students to develop arguments in their chosen career fields. Essays 2, 3, 4 will be developed as approved argumentative topics that tie to each individual’s major area of study.

Remember, if you took English 1301 and made lower than a C, you should not be enrolled in English 1302. You must re-enroll and pass English 1301 before moving on. Moreover, in order to take many upper-level courses you must have taken and passed both English 1301 and 1302 with a C or better.

English Program Learning Outcomes:
This is a general education core curriculum course and no specific program learning outcomes for this major are addressed in this course.

Student Learning Outcomes for ENG 1302:
ENG 1302 learning outcomes are the goals that students must meet as part of the Freshman Composition core curriculum requirements, which include:

1. Ability to show appropriate acquisition of CORE objective 1 skills. Students in compositions courses make application of these skills in the writing of personal, expository, and persuasive essays, which require students to make inquiries into and explorations of topics in creative, innovative, or analytical ways. Students are expected to complete readings, to engage in course and group discussions, and to analyze, interpret and synthesize their findings resultant from these critical engagements into well-developed essays. Written assignments will evidence the students’ command of these considerations: effective engagement of audience (pathos), logical development of ideas (logos), and effective use of examples, expertise, or insight (ethos); a research essay is the culminating writing of this course; students will learn appropriate research methodologies, how to evaluate secondary sources, and to synthesize the ideas of others in their arguments.

2. Ability to show appropriate acquisition of CORE objective 2 skills. These skills include effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral and visual communication. Following instruction about group interaction, students will engage in oral communication through class discussions and group work (orally in face-to-face courses, electronically in online courses). Students will have occasion to respond to visual medium, as found in assigned readings, lectures, power-point presentations, or other media dependent upon course materials. Students learn processes for writing that help them to form coherent, well-developed, well-organized and unified discussions through a variety of writing methodologies, including persuasive, analytical, and argumentative methodologies. Students will write several essays; the culminating assignment will be an argumentative, research-based essay, and rubrics will assess such concerns as development and exploration, mechanical clarity, interpretation or expression of ideas, and effective use of research methodologies.
3. Ability to show appropriate acquisition of CORE objective 3 skills. These skills include the ability to consider different points of view and to work effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal. Following instruction about peer review processes and small group work, students will perform peer mentorship on essay assignments and work together on group projects, which may include collaborative writing occasions, group presentations, or panel discussions. As peer review is the common teamwork experience, students will be required to share potentially diverse ideas with one another, to address those views in appropriate ways, and to help one another to finalize essays for submission.

4. Ability to show appropriate acquisition of CORE objective 4 skills. These skills include the ability to connect choices, actions and consequences to ethical decision-making. Students will have opportunity to examine numerous secondary sources, to determine the credibility and value of those sources, and to understand how argumentative methodologies bear responsibility and consequence.

---

University Policies

Acceptable Student Behavior:
Classroom behavior should not interfere with the instructor’s ability to conduct the class or the ability of other students to learn from the instructional program (see the Student Conduct Code, policy D-34.1). Unacceptable or disruptive behavior will not be tolerated. Students who disrupt the learning environment may be asked to leave class and may be subject to judicial, academic, or other penalties. This prohibition applies to all instructional forums, including electronic, classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The instructor shall have full discretion over what behavior is appropriate/inappropriate in the classroom. Students who do not attend class regularly or who perform poorly on class projects/exams may be referred to the Early Alert Program. This program provides students with recommendations for resources or other assistance available to help SFA students succeed.

Academic Integrity (A-9.1):
Academic integrity is the responsibility of all university faculty and students. Faculty members promote academic integrity in multiple ways, including instruction on the components of academic honesty as well as abiding by university policy on penalties for cheating and plagiarism. Academic dishonesty includes both cheating and plagiarism. Cheating includes but is not limited to (1) using or attempting to use unauthorized materials to aid in achieving a better grade on a component of a class; (2) the falsification or invention of any information, including citations, on an assigned exercise; and/or (3) helping or attempting to help another in an act of cheating or plagiarism. Plagiarism is presenting the words or ideas of another person as if they were your own. Examples of plagiarism are (1) submitting an assignment as if it were one’s own work when, in fact, it is at least partly the work of another; (2) submitting a work that has been purchased or otherwise obtained from an Internet source or another source; and (3) incorporating the words or ideas of an author into one’s paper without giving the author due credit. Please read the complete policy at:

http://www.sfasu.edu/policies/academic_integrity.asp.

Discrimination/Harassment Policy: It is the policy of this instructor in this classroom that no persons will be discriminated against or harassed on the basis of gender, age, size, ethnicity/race—or any other category of difference. In fact, we celebrate difference in our classroom. In the event that discrimination/harassment takes place (either reported or observed) involved students will be required to conference with professor before returning to class. SFA policy E-46 governs these issues and establishes a clear procedure for those unable to comply with expectations.
Withheld Grades Policy (A-54):
The following is taken from SFASU’s Policy Manual (2012), “Semester Grades Policy” (A-54). At the discretion of the instructor of record and with the approval of the academic chair/director, a grade of WH will be assigned only if the student cannot complete the course work because of unavoidable circumstances. Students must complete the work within one calendar year from the end of the semester in which they receive a WH, or the grade automatically becomes an F. If students register for the same course in future terms, the WH will automatically become an F and will be counted as a repeated course for the purpose of computing the grade point average.

Students with Disabilities:
To obtain disability-related accommodations, alternate formats and/or auxiliary aids, students with disabilities must contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS), Human Services Building 325, 468-3004 / 468-1004 (TDD) as early as possible in the semester. Once verified, ODS will notify the course instructor and outline the accommodation and/or auxiliary aids to be provided. Failure to request services in a timely manner may delay your accommodations. For additional information, go to http://www.sfasu.edu/disabilityservices/.

General Education Core Curriculum
This course has been selected to be part of Stephen F. Austin State University’s core curriculum. The Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board has identified six objectives for all core courses: Critical Thinking Skills, Communication Skills, Empirical and Quantitative Skills, Teamwork, Personal Responsibility, and Social Responsibility. SFA is committed to the improvement of its general education core curriculum by regular assessment of student performance on these six objectives.

Assessment of these objectives at SFA will be based on student work from all core curriculum courses. This student work will be collected by SFA’s core assessment team. You will be submitting your capstone assignment for core assessment through the D2L/Brightspace system.

The chart below indicates the core objectives addressed by this course, the assignment(s) that will be used to assess the objectives in this course and submitted this semester, and the date the assignment(s) should be uploaded. Not every assignment will be collected for assessment every semester. Your instructor will notify you which assignment(s) must be submitted for assessment this semester.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Core Objective</th>
<th>Definition</th>
<th>Course Assignment Title</th>
<th>Date Due</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Critical Thinking Skills</td>
<td>To include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Communication Skills</td>
<td>To include effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas though written, oral, and visual communication.</td>
<td>ENG. 1302</td>
<td>Fall 2018</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Empirical and Quantitative Skills</td>
<td>To include the manipulation and analysis of numerical data or observable facts resulting in informed conclusions.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Teamwork</td>
<td>To include the ability to consider different points of view and to work effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Personal Responsibility</td>
<td>To include the ability to connect choices, actions and consequences to ethical decision-</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
ONLINE FEATURES:

This 8-week semester we will have fewer daily grades, and the value of them will count more. You will have a choice each week—to participate in the live chats (Tuesday 10-11 a.m) OR the discussion board discussions. You must be present for the whole hour in the live chat in order to receive credit; you must also post regularly, answer questions that I raise, and generally be active in the chat. If you choose to do the discussion, it will open early in the week, and close on Fridays, and you must post and respond to each other numerous times in order to receive credit. You will do the live chat OR the discussion board, not both.

Discussions—I will post topics for discussion; you will respond to the topics and to each other. I will read your posts, and sometimes I will respond individually. Other times, you may bring up issues and start threads in order to clarify or enhance the discussion topic. Discussions will open on Mondays and be due on Fridays. There will be no discussion the last week of the course.

Chats—We will have one scheduled chat per week (approximately one hour long)—on Tuesday, 10:00-11:00 a.m. If you cannot make the chat, you will need to participate in the discussion board. There will be no chat the last week of the course.

Zoom—Zoom is being used in D2L/Brightspace; you may have classes over Zoom or you may have used it in the past. As this class is fully online and asynchronous (not scheduled for a specific time), we will reserve this technology for those classes which are absolutely dependent on it. I may, however, see a need throughout our short semester to meet with some or all of you through Zoom—as we can share documents and edit them together. I know that you all have different schedules, so I will only use this for extreme emergencies, or on an individual basis. If we need to do so, I will try to survey times that most of the class is available, so look for a Doodle Poll about that soon.

E-Portfolio—SFA is now offering (though D2L/Brightspace) a portfolio for each student. We probably won’t use those for classwork, but at any time you wish, you will be able to save your papers or materials into this portfolio. It is a user-access only type of tool, so only you will be able to put things in it or take them out, and you will be able to use it during your time at SFA and then download it when you leave. Many employers and schools request portfolios for applications, so this is a great opportunity to get yours started.

E-mail—Please e-mail me in the course; I will read the e-mail at least once each weekday, and once on the weekend (probably Sunday nights). I prefer that you contact me this way, so we have a record of our correspondence in one contained digital space. Please log on to the course each day and check for e-mails and responses. You must be in logged into D2L/Brightspace in order to use this e-mail feature, so you are not able to e-mail to the course from other emails. If I have not responded in 3 days, you should e-mail me at my sfa e-mail: swhatley@sfasu.edu

Office Hours—I will have five scheduled office hours each week, all of which are only online. During the virtual hours, you will be able to contact me by logging onto the course and using the “Page” feature in the e-mail tool. You will invite me to chat, and I will respond; this way we will be able to chat privately about any of your concerns. Since this feature allows communication with only one student at a time, you will need to be patient as you wait for me to finish with other students. You may also request a face-to-face meeting in my office (LAN 259) at times mutually convenient, but that request must come at least twenty-four hours before the desired conference time. As the semester continues, I may find it helpful to you have meet with me on Zoom, and we can discuss those times through e-mail, a phone call, or the page/chat feature to set up a scheduled office visit.

Turning on Notifications: Follow the directions below to turn on notifications, so that you will always be signaled if there are e-mails, messages, or due dates coming up:

Setting up Your Notifications

1. Login to Brightspace, then click your Name.
2. Click Notifications.
3. Brightspace provides 2 contact methods: email and phone. ...
4. Select your preferred method of notification (Email or SMS) for each listed action.

Learning Modules

This course was originally designed around 7 learning units. I have broken that material into modules for each week of the semester, so you will be able to look at the calendar at the end of this syllabus and see when the modules open. You will also see the major assignments due dates. In the F1 or F2 courses which last 8 weeks, the modules and papers don’t fit nicely into one week, so I will open at one time all modules associated with the paper on which we are presently working. Please read these modules carefully, following any outside links and material and noting the assignments and when they are due. Due dates for dropbox assignments and quizzes will appear in the course calendar. The discussions have clear beginning and ending dates, and I have highlighted the major assignments’ due dates in the course timeline. You should always be able to find the due dates, especially if you note them when you open up each module. Each module is also tied to the assigned reading in open source materials of the course or in the learning modules. Not reading the modules or provided materials thoroughly is a sure way to hurt your chances of learning about argumentation principles and is almost a guarantee for not doing well on your written assignments. Every assignment you need to complete will be included (as links) in each of these modules, so there will be no need to go to the quiz, discussion, or dropbox tools—though you are certainly welcome to do so. Skipping to the assignments and not reading and doing them in sequence with the learning modules just makes things confusing. Just follow the modules from beginning to end—and use your course calendar feature and you should be fine.

I will not open the modules associated with the next paper more than two or three days in advance, however, because I don’t want you to jump ahead. Every student needs the feedback from the final assignments in each module before completing final work in the next module. I have at least seventy-five students for whom I will need to respond and each essay takes thirty minutes to an hour to grade—so I will need at least a week after final papers are due to post grades and comments. You will be able to read and get started with the next module during that time period.
The AARC: Visit the SFA Academic Assistance and Resource Center (AARC)!
The AARC provides a variety of free academic support programs for students at SFA. Our services include 1:1 appointments, walk-in tables, online tutoring (through Zoom), learning teams, and SI. For online students, the AARC offers the OWL, an online tutorial service accessible through the mycourses list. This semester, you will need to make appointments at the AARC, as they are not doing open enrollment (walk-in’s). You can make standing appointments or one-time appointments, and you can do Zoom sessions.

Contact information:
Phone: 936-468-4108
Email: aarc@sfasu.edu
In-person: Monday-Thursday 8 a.m.-7 p.m. First floor Ralph W. Steen Library
For more information about the services provided, visit us on the web: sfasu.edu/aarc

Feedback on Drafts and Final papers: Grading papers is very time consuming! I will be on a tight schedule from the time you submit a paper, whether that is a draft or a final copy. As quickly as I can give feedback, I will, but in the case of your drafts, you will be doing/receiving a peer review, and you also have the opportunity to submit your paper to the tutors at the AARC. You can submit them electronically through the OWL, or face to face if you prefer. Because you submit your draft and final copy within four or five days of each other, the feedback you receive from me and from your peer may not make it to you until one or two days before the final draft is due. This is normal for getting draft feedback, so clearing the time before your final draft will help you be able to use the feedback effectively as you are finalizing your work.

Attendance: As this course meets online in the BRIGHTSPACE system, attendance will be constituted by participation in the activities of the course. Those activities include chats, discussion boards, e-mail, quizzes, essays, and other written assignments. For each required assignment which is not submitted, students will be counted absent. After five un-submitted assignments, the student may be considered failing, regardless of grade average. This semester, we will do a first day and twelfth day roll call in the discussion board under the section “Attendance.” If students do not post on these attendance discussions, they will be counted absent.

Grading: Total points possible for the semester will be approximately 2200 pts. Student grades will be based on five essays, one final exam, and multiple daily grades.

THE DIAGNOSTIC ESSAY—a preliminary essay done the first two days of class 50 pts.
THE SUMMARY ANALYSIS— 3-4 pp. minimum, analyzing 2 given articles, 200 points.
THE ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY— 5 annotated sources, 4 pp. minimum, 400 points.
THE CLASSICAL ARGUMENT/SYNTHESIS ANALYSIS—Researched argument with 3-5 sources, 3-4 pp. minimum, 400 points.
THE EXTENDED RESEARCH ARGUMENT—6-8 pps. minimum, 8 sources minimum, 400 pts. This assignment is our capstone assignment* and must be submitted for core assessment as well as the normal dropbox for grading purposes.
THE FINAL EXAM –cumulative, multiple choice exam given online during exam week which will count 200 points.

DAILY GRADES---The final 500 points (approximately) will come from daily participation—drafts of essays, peer review, chats/discussion boards, and quizzes; there will be numerous daily grades, and these will comprise about 25% of your total grade. It is very important that you do these assignments and turn them in on time, as they are building blocks to successfully accomplishing the major writing assignments associated with the modules.

COURSE CAPSTONE ESSAY: In compliance with the TEXAS HIGHER EDUCATIONAL COORDINATING BOARD, students in designated core curriculum courses will write a course capstone essay in which they will be asked to develop a professional document that exhibits an understanding of core objectives as determined by the core assessment schedule; students will be assessed based on their use of critical thinking skills; grammar, vocabulary, written style, and effectiveness; teamwork; or, the effect of personal choices. This essay will be the final extended research paper, and if required, the essay will be submitted not only to the dropbox, but to the university as well, for core evaluation.

More information on written assignments is forthcoming. Essays will be graded both on substance (quality and accuracy of ideas) as well as expression (tone, style, syntax), a grading process referred to as holistic grading. Every essay assignment is accompanied by a rubric, so you will know exactly what goes into consideration for your grade.

Rough Drafts and Peer-Reviews—These two stages of the writing process are steps in each major essay assignment. The grades assigned them are not major grades, but the activities are essential if you expect to do well on the final drafts of the essays. The peer review addresses one of the four new core curriculum objectives, and it is necessary that you post your draft and review one of your classmates drafts in the discussion board [titled “Rough Draft/Peer Review Summary Analysis” (or Synthesis Analysis, or Claim Form Match)] which is associated with that paper. You will receive separate feedback from me on your rough drafts, so before you write the final draft of your paper, you will have feedback from an assigned peer reviewer AND your instructor; you will also have reviewed your partner’s paper, so that in each of these activities, you have a chance to deeply understand what you are meant to accomplish in each writing assignment.

Grade Criteria:

Grading Standard:

A: 90-100: Students earning the grade of an A on any assignment will have completed work that obviously demonstrates a more than average understanding of the course material and completion of all aspects and requirements of the assignment. The grade of an A is reserved for that work which expertly displays one’s ability to engage the ideas at hand, recognize and dialogue about the complications of such ideas, and translate such dialogue into clear, academic prose that is free of stigmatized errors.

B: 80-89: Students earning the grade of a B on any assignment will have completed work that demonstrates a more than average understanding of the course material and completion of all aspects and requirements of the assignment. The grade of a B is reserved for that work which adeptly displays one’s ability to engage the ideas at hand, recognize and dialogue about the complications of such ideas, and translate such dialogue into clear, academic prose that is free of stigmatized errors. However, the level of thought, while still above average, may fluctuate in terms of analytic abilities and expression.

C: 70-79: Students earning the grade of a C on any assignment will have completed work that demonstrates an average understanding of the course material and completion of all aspects and requirements of the assignment. The grade of a C is reserved for that work which displays one’s ability to engage the ideas at hand (more so through summary and response rather than analysis), recognize and dialogue about the complications of such ideas (however, the complications recognized will focus more on surface level issues rather than the greater whole), and translate such dialogue into clear, academic prose that is free of stigmatized errors. As can be seen from this description, the level of thought will be acceptable and display that a student has read the assignment, but his/her analytic abilities and level of expression will not be nearly as complicated nor developed. Instead, C work will display a student’s hold to traditional methods of expression (simpler construction of sentence and paragraph development) and a struggle to develop complex, critical thinking skills.

D: 60-69: Students earning the grade of a D on any assignment will have completed work that demonstrates a below average understanding of course material and a lack of completion of all aspects and requirements of the assignment. The grade of a D is reserved for that work which displays one’s struggle or refusal to engage the ideas at hand, simply summarizes the work under study with no actual recognition of or dialogue about the complications of such ideas, and the translation of ideas into writing is completed in such a convoluted manner that the audience will have difficulty following the conversation.
Students earning the grade of a F on any assignment will either not have completed the assignment, will have completed the assignment but not followed the guidelines, or will have completed the assignment and demonstrated a complete misunderstanding of the course material. In this case, it will be obvious that the student has either not completed the required reading and/or given him/herself enough time to develop the work. The grade of a F is reserved for that work which does not engage the issues at hand, offers a base (not complete) summary of the work at hand with no critical engagement, and the translation of ideas into writing is either incomplete or the audience will be unable to follow the conversation. It is important to remember that a student can receive 0 out of 100 points. In the case that a student only partially completes an assignment or completes a work (in terms of page length, but not purpose) s/he may receive 0 points.

Late Work Policy: As assignments are given a range due date, the final due date is the last day an assignment may be submitted. In the event of a medical or family emergency, the student should contact the instructor as soon as possible and provide legal documentation before work can be made up and the Dropbox can be reopened. Only legitimate excuses specified by SFASU’s attendance/absentee policy will be given make-up clearance.

Extension Bonus: You will be allowed one, two-day extension, with no penalty, and if you do not use it, you will receive a 20 point bonus (on your point total) at the end of the semester.

Late work has been an ongoing problem in the online courses, and I have been flooded with requests for extensions and reopening of the assignment. I don’t want to start the semester out in a negative fashion, so I will remind you here, that your assignment due dates are in the course calendar; those dates are posted when the module opens and they will always be due at 11:30 p.m. on the date assigned. Please do not wait until 11:25 and expect things to flow smoothly. Set yourself a goal to post your work well ahead of the due time, preferably during working hours, so that you can contact CTL if you experience problems. The Dropbox will ONLY be reopened for legitimate, excused absences, and since the class is online and assignments are made in advance, even excused absences don’t necessarily need to prevent your turning in work on time. If you turn in assignments on time, you will find that you have less stress and more time to take on the next assignments.

Essays/research papers: All essays/research papers are to be written only by the legitimate participant of the class (see student handbook for policies concerning academic integrity at SFASU). Any student who purposefully plagiarizes a paper will automatically fail that paper and be asked to drop the class. If the infraction occurs after the drop date, the student will automatically fail the class for the semester.

All final essays should be saved as digital files in rtf. or word document formats. All essays should be double-spaced, following MLA format, including heading and pagination requirements. Essays will be evaluated holistically; grammatical mistakes and errors in usage will be marked and considered in the evaluation.

Naming Files: All essays and uploaded work should be saved and the file titled in the following manner:

LastnameFirstinitialFall2019 Essay_Ifd (rd—rough draft fd—final draft)

ex: BrownRFall2019 Essay_Ird
    KaddleTFall2019 Essay_Ifd

Drafting and Rewriting Papers: All papers will go through a process of drafting. After this process takes place, you will be asked to submit a final draft of your essay. In the event of failure, students will be allowed to rewrite THE SUMMARY ANALYSIS and/or THE ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY only, and the grade may change in the gradebook (if the paper has improved.) The procedure for rewriting a paper is included at the end of the syllabus. As we move more toward the end of the semester, time crunch and increasing responsibility will prohibit the rewriting of essays, so the grade on the final draft submitted will remain. No student will be allowed special permission to rewrite a paper.
for a better grade after the first two papers of the semester.

Extra Credit: The professor reserves the right to offer extra credit during the semester, though she does not guarantee the offering of it. Two extra credit opportunities will always be offered: the “no-extension” bonus and the course evaluation bonus, both of which will count 20 pts. each. Any extra credit opportunity will be offered to every student in the class, and there will be no further offer of extra credit to individuals. No student will receive more than fifty points of extra credit during the semester.

Grammar, Composition, and Literary Links:
The Purdue Owl: https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/

Procedure for Rewriting an Essay: Online Student Version
(Essay 1 or 2 Only)

1) Your paper will be returned electronically with a request that you rewrite. Reread your graded paper and the comments I have included. Make sure that you understand the original requirements of the prompt. In some cases, you may need to completely re-conceive the essay in order to satisfy the requirements. Rewriting is not just about “fixing the errors.”

2) Use your grammar handbook to help you understand the markings and comments I have made. You must understand what you have done wrong before you can rewrite.

3) Contact an AARC tutor (through the OWL or on campus) and discuss the graded paper and assignment with your tutor. Once your tutorial session has taken place, I will receive a notification. (You will as well, and you'll need to save it, in the event I don't receive one.) You need to chat with me (virtually or face to face) or talk on the phone after your AARC session in order to resubmit your paper.

4) When you are sure that you understand what your problems were on the original, rewrite the paper, proofread it, attach the AARC tutorial form, and submit it to the assignment entitled Paper I—Rewrites, Paper II—rewrites, etc.

5) Rewrites must be submitted within one week of the returned original paper.

6) The grade for the rewritten essay will be averaged with the grade you received on the original.
New Content Modules are highlighted in purple.
Major Assignments are highlighted in red.

*Assignments as well as dates are subject to change at the discretion of the instructor

Week 1: Aug. 24—Aug. 30th [Aug 27th Last Drop Date]

| Getting Started Module and Introduction to the Course |
| Working on the diagnostic essay |
| Aug. 26th Diagnostic Essay Due |

| Content Module I — Introduction to Argument |
| Characteristics |
| Purpose |
| Location |

| Content Module II — Reading, Reviewing, Summarizing and Analyzing an Argument |
| Critical Reading |
| Rhetorical Analysis |
| Ethos, Logos, Pathos, Kairos |
| Fallacies |
| Summary |
| Paraphrasing |
| Active Reading and Annotating a Text |

Week 2: Aug. 31st—Sept. 6

| Drafting and Peer Reviews of Summary Analysis |
| Sept. 2 Summary Analysis Due |

| Content Module III — Doing Research and Documentation |
| Getting Started with Research, Research Actions, and Types of Searches |
| Choosing a Career-Based Argumentative Topic |
| Gather Ye Sources While Ye May |
| Library Modules |

Week 3: Sept. 7-13 [Sept. 8—12th class day]

| Preliminary Bibliography |
| Sept. 9 Final Annotated Bibliography |

| Content Module IV: Principles of Argument |
| Core of the Argument |
| Logical Structure of the Argument |
| STAR criteria |
| The HINGE |

| Content Module V — Synthesizing the Argument |

Week 4: Sept. 14-20

| Content Module VI—Forms of Argumentation |
| Classical | —Rogerian
—Toulmin

—Drafting the Synthesis Analysis
—Rough Draft of Synthesis Analysis Due
—Post Draft of Synthesis Analysis
—Peer Review of Synthesis Analysis

Week 5: Sept. 21-27
—Sept. 23rd — Final Draft Paper 3 due: Synthesis Analysis
—Choose a new topic
Content Module VII — The Researched Claim Form Argument
—Welcome to the Claim Forms
—Analyzing Visual Arguments (optional but recommended)
—Introduction to Types of Claim

Week 6: Sept. 28- Oct. 4
—Final Countdown
—Five Questions about Audience
—Topic, Plan and Working Bibliography
—Claim form Quiz
—Research and Draft paper 4

Week 7: Oct. 5-11
—Rough Draft Claim Form/Ext Arg. due
—Peer Review, Revise, Proofread

Week 8: Oct. 12-14 [Oct. 16 Midsemester ]
—Oct. 14th Final Exam
—Final Exam Online: Opens OCT. 13 at 8 a.m.—ends Oct. 14th at 5:00 p.m.
(must be taken in one sitting and can only be taken once.)