APPLIED COMPOSITION SYLLABUS

COURSE:

MUTC 1109
1 semester hour
Music Building, Room 252
Scheduled weekly meeting and optional weekly studio class (Wednesdays at 3:00 in 153)

INSTRUCTOR:

Prof. Josh Coe
Music Building, Office 264
Coerj1@sfasu.edu
Office Hours: TBA or by appointment.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

30-minutes of private applied study in composition. Intended for those pursuing composition as an elective. Each semester of composition will take the student on a progressive exploration of the materials, skills, styles, techniques, and aesthetics involved in composing original music. When appropriate, specific content may be included to assist individuals in achieving their creative and/or professional goals, or to rectify a deficiency in their technique. Students are expected to devote approximately 7 hours per week working on their compositions (over a 15-week semester). No prerequisite.

TEXTBOOK/MATERIALS:

Essential Dictionary of Orchestration (Alfred)
Essential Dictionary of Music Notation (Alfred)
Handy Manual Fingering Charts by Clarence Hendrickson

All other materials will be provided by the instructor, placed online for download, or placed on reserve in the library or in the composition room.

GRADING:

60% - Lesson Average
20% - Completed Works (one or more)
20% - Readings/Performances (one or more)

Assessment of quality includes the following: creativity, artistic merit, idiomatic use of instruments, correct notation, inclusion of expression and articulation, and how well it fulfills the goals of the assignment.

Exploratory or Directed Learning: Many weeks, you will receive a specific assignment – a score, composer, or article to absorb. In these cases, please come to the next lesson prepared to lead a brief discussion about this content. What interested you? What confused you? What questions, comments or objections do you have in response to it? If no other assignment was given, in preparation for their lessons, students should engage in exploratory learning in the following way:

- Start somewhere – it can be a website, a book, a recording, a score, etc. If in doubt, www.newmusicbox.org is ALWAYS a great place to start.
- During your reading, you’ll encounter words, names, ideas, techniques, places, etc. that you are unfamiliar with. When you encounter them, go look them up. If it is a piece of music, go listen to it (preferably with a score).
- As you look things up, this will also lead to other places. Continue to follow the threads and build a web of interrelated knowledge as the materials leads you.
- In doing this, you are likely to learn about more than just music. As you work your way through this, keep some sort of record or diagram that shows the general shape of what you learned, and be prepared to describe all this to your professor at your lesson.

Composition Studio Class meets from 3:00-3:50 on Wednesdays. MTC 107 students are encourage (but not required) to attend. This is a time of interaction during which we cover a variety of topics. Weekly subjects might include listening to each other’s works, guest lectures, field trips, studies of great works, lessons on compositional technique, and group discussion. Although studio class does not generally include homework, there are occasionally required readings.

Completed Works – This requirement is designed to emulate the expectations that a publisher or competition would have in terms of the quality and content of a finished work. All students will be provided with an in-house style guide which clearly establishes expectations regarding layout, notation, and all editorial matters. Students in 107 will be graded less stringently than composition majors, but the elements will remain the same:

- Single PDF file of score including:
  - Professional-looking cover page
  - Program notes & any necessary explanatory notes to the performers
  - Complete transposed score which conforms to our area style guide
- Single PDF file containing all necessary parts for the work. These will also be carefully edited to conform to the area style guide.
- MP3 file with recording/mockup of composition. This must be better than merely an audio export from Finale/Sibelius/Dorico. It can be a recording with live players, done in a concert hall or studio, a mixture of live performers and samples (done in a DAW), or entirely done with samples in a DAW. In all cases, though, great care should be given to make the recording be the best possible representation of the piece.

Reading or Performance – All applied composition students are required to have a reading and/or performance of a piece of theirs during each semester. You will receive the credit for this based on proof that it happened. In cases where the professor is present, that will constitute proof. In cases where he is not present, please arrange to make a video or audio for later review.

ATTENDANCE:

Students are expected to attend all lessons. If it is necessary to be absent, you must notify the instructor in advance. When notification occurs the day before the lesson, every effort will be made to reschedule the lesson for an alternate time. When notification happens the same day as the lesson, the lesson may still be rescheduled, but 20 points will be deducted from the grade. Unexcused absences will be counted as a zero and cannot be made up. Students must attend at least 12 lessons and each semester.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY:

Please familiarize yourself with the Academic Dishonesty policy as listed in the University Policies and Procedures Manual. As with any course, it is imperative that you do all your own work and not participate in cheating or any type. Academic integrity is a responsibility of all university faculty and students. Faculty members promote academic integrity in multiple ways including instruction on the components of academic honesty, as well as abiding by university policy on penalties for cheating and plagiarism.

Definition of Academic Dishonesty

Academic dishonesty includes both cheating and plagiarism. Cheating includes but is not limited to (1) using or attempting to use unauthorized materials to aid in achieving a better grade on a component of a class; (2) the falsification or invention of any information, including citations, on an assigned exercise; and/or (3) helping or attempting to help another in an act of cheating or plagiarism. Plagiarism is presenting the words or ideas of another person as if they were your own. Examples of plagiarism are (1) submitting an assignment as if it were one's own work when, in fact, it is at least partly the work of another; (2) submitting a work that has been purchased or otherwise obtained from an Internet source or another source; and (3) incorporating the words or ideas of an author into one's paper without giving the author due credit.

Please read the complete policy at http://www.sfasu.edu/policies/academic_integrity.asp

WITHHELD GRADES

Ordinarily, at the discretion of the instructor of record and with the approval of the academic chair/director, a grade of WH will be assigned only if the student cannot complete the course work because of unavoidable circumstances. Students must complete the work within one calendar year from the end of the semester in which they receive a WH, or the grade automatically becomes an F. If students register for the same course in future terms the WH will automatically become an F and will be counted as a repeated course for the purpose of computing the grade point average.

OTHER IMPORTANT POLICY MATTERS:

Adding/Dropping: Students can add up until the 4th class day. Movement into and out of classes after the 4th class day requires approval of the Department Chair. Students can drop until mid-semester with a W. Drops after mid-semester require the approval of the Dean and will be assigned a WP or a WF. You are responsible for your own enrollment status with the college.

Student Services: To obtain disability related accommodations, alternate formats and/or auxiliary aids, students with disabilities must contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS), Human Services Building, and Room 325, 468-3004 / 468-1004 (TDD) as early as possible in the semester. Once verified, ODS will notify the course instructor and outline the accommodation and/or auxiliary aids to be provided. Failure to request services in a timely manner may delay your accommodations.
