There is an Online Writing Lab (available through D2L) and a walk-in table available in the AARC. I will post the days/times once they are available.

Any student who has difficulty affording groceries or accessing sufficient food to eat every day, or who lacks a safe and stable place to live, and believes this may affect their performance in the course, is urged to contact the Dean of Students for support. Furthermore, please notify the professor if you are uncomfortable in doing so. This will enable them to provide any resources that they may possess.

Email me directly at pruitjc@sfasu.edu (not through D2L). I am unable to respond to emails from D2L.

Course Description

SOC 137: General examination of culture, socialization, roles, values, social inequalities, population, social institutions, and social change.

In this course, we will work toward understanding the social worlds in which we live. This is an introductory course. The goal is to introduce you to foundational knowledge and a wide variety of sociological topics; and to better understand how these apply to your everyday life. In short, this course is an exploration of ourselves as much as it is an exploration of sociology.

Importantly, the matters we will discuss in this course necessarily intersect with social structures, going concerns, and individuals. Moreover, conceptualizations of these are not static, but change over time, across cultures, and in relation to power. Thus, part of our interest will be in understanding the relativity the individual and society, dominant power structures, and how these affect everyday lives.

This course is designed to be accessible to non-sociology majors (although my goal is for you to be a sociology major/minor by the end of the semester!). I expect you to read the course materials in advance, participate in course discussions (individually and as a group), and contribute to the overall intellectual atmosphere of the class and university.

Remember: this is not my class; it is our class. Again, your success in this course largely depends upon preparation and participation. By this I am asking: do you read, show up for class, take notes, contribute to the intellectual atmosphere, submit assignments, and prepare for the exams? I will provide you with the tools you need for success, but you must use them.

Course Requirements/Assignments

Exams
There will be three exams (02/13, 03/24, 05/07). Questions will be drawn from course lectures, discussion, and readings. (3 exams x 100 points = 300 points)

   Makeup exams
Make up exams are permitted with proper documentation and are scheduled for Friday 05/01 @ 12pm in F482.

Attendance and Participation (see SFASU policy 6.7)
Attendance and participation are required. If you are absent, you will lose 3 points. If you are late you will lose 1.5 points. If you leave early you will lose 1.5 points. (3 points for each per class x 28 classes = 84 points)

You will receive 18 bonus points to make up for any absences (school sponsored or otherwise). These points will be added to your point total.

SAGrader Assignments
SAGrader Assignments will be due for each chapter. The course schedule below should be used in conjunction with the due dates you have for www.SAGrader.com. All SAGrader assignments open at 12am on the day we begin the chapter and close at 11pm on the due date listed in the course calendar. The due dates are also listed on www.SAGrader.com in the appropriate course section for your class and this syllabus. You may submit as many times as you would like before the due date to maximize your score. You will receive half (50%) credit if you turn an assignment in after the due date. (265 points)

Research participation
You are required to participate in a 45-75 minute research interview about your experiences as a college student. This will take place outside of regular course time. You will sign up through a doodle poll that I send out to the class. This is a pass/no pass assignment.

Text and Materials

This course requires SAGrader™. https://www.sagrader.com

SOC 137 – SOC 137-005 Pruit TTH 9:30AM

This course requires the Writing About Sociology and SAGrader™ Course Packet, Spring 2020.

There are two options to receive the textbook. First, subscribe to SAGrader (see below) and they will send you a link to access the book. The other way is through the book store (this works best if you depend on financial aid to pay for your books); also see below.

This packet includes both the printed text for the course and a subscription to the SAGrader online service for grading essays. There should be a scratch-off card in the sealed book with your access code. Do not lose it!! You will need to use the access code included in this packet when you log on to the SAGrader service. This service will give you quick and detailed feedback on your writing assignments, and will make it possible for you to resubmit the answer with changes to improve your score. All of the writing assignments are keyed to the course packet text and lecture notes. You will use this grading service extensively during this course for a wide range of assignments, including self-study exercises and your term paper.

Subscribing to SAGrader™
To subscribe, go to www.SAGrader.com then select the “create a student account“ on the right top of the screen just under the “email” box. The site explains registration step by step. You will be asked for some identifying information – You MUST use your University email address. Your Username is your SFA email (everything before the @) Your Student ID is your Student Number. After filling out the form, check your email to get your login information. After signing in, choose to "Enroll in a new course using an enrollment code." The enrollment code is on the scratch-off card in your packet. (If you are doing online only, a link of the book will be sent to you after you pay for SAGrader.) It is VERY IMPORTANT you enter and the CORRECT SECTION on the enrollment form. You should sign up for SOC 137 – SOC 137-005 Pruitt TTH 9:30AM (Spring 2020) at Stephen F. Austin State University. Once signed up, you will be able to submit an unlimited number of assignments for this course during this academic term. If you have any problems subscribing, email support@ideaworks.com or call (573) 445-4554 between 9AM and 5PM Central Time, Monday through Friday.

A Note on SAGrader™ Challenges

Your challenges in which you point out some element the program missed are very helpful to us as well as we try to make sure the program grades fairly. The TAs and I read them and sometimes override the program, or explain why it was correct. In addition, a programmer uses the challenges to modify the program so it grades more fairly. We are finding that in most cases, the best way to address a valid challenge is to revise the program. Once revised the program re-grades not only your essay, but every essay submitted by any students. This almost always corrects the problem you challenged and often improves both your grade and the grades of other students where the program missed the same thing. So, don’t be surprised if we don’t respond directly to you immediately about a challenge. It usually takes a day or two for us to review them and revise the program. If program revisions don’t raise your grade, we will then try to come back and address your challenge individually. Challenges are only effective if they are clear. Challenges MUST state what you think you got right and why. Usually this involves stating the concept or definition you believe you correctly stated and pasting in your statement. Challenges that are too vague (e.g., “I should have gotten more points.”) will be returned to you with a request for more information and will only slow the process down. The purpose of challenges is not to guarantee that you got a perfect score, but to guarantee that you get a fair score. I can’t promise every challenge will be read and addressed before the deadline. You should expect it to take 48 HOURS before we can answer challenges. I will use the challenges to revise the program to avoid unfairly missing a correct answer. First, I will use them to change the program and then if the grade is still missing something important I will adjust your score manually. Those adjustments may not come before the deadline however. So, if you think you might have some things wrong about your answer try to fix them yourself before the deadline.

Course Calendar (This is a plan, not a promise. It can change at the instructor’s discretion.)

SOC 137 “Introduction to Sociology” (3 credits) typically meets twice each week (Tuesday/Thursday) in 75-minute segments for 15 weeks, and also meets for a 2-hour final examination. Students have significant weekly reading assignments, are expected to lead group discussions, and take two exams. These activities average at a minimum 6 hours of work each week to prepare outside of classroom hours.

General Education Core Curriculum

The Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board has identified six core learning objectives: Critical Thinking Skills, Communication Skills, Empirical and Quantitative Skills, Teamwork, Personal Responsibility, and Social Responsibility. SFA is committed to the improvement of its general education core curriculum by regular assessment of student performance on these six objectives.

By enrolling in Introduction to Sociology you are also enrolling in a Core Curriculum Course that fulfills the Empirical and Quantitative Skills requirement. You will see this course on your D2L list.

At one point during the semester, you will receive an assignment that fulfills both the requirements of this course and the needs of Stephen F. Austin State University’s Core Curriculum Assessment Plan with the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board. When you complete this one assignment, you need to upload the assignment to both your standard course dropbox determined by your Instructor and the “Core Curriculum” dropbox. The Core Curriculum dropbox will be identified by the Objective for which work is being collected. (Examples: Critical Thinking, Teamwork, Social Responsibility Empirical & Quantitative Skills, Personal Responsibility, Communication Skills-Written, Communication Skills-Written & Visual, and Communication Skills-Oral & Visual.) Please note that this only applies to the approved assignment. All other assignments should be submitted according to regular class operations. If you have any questions, please see your Instructor or the Office of Student Learning and Institutional Assessment.

When you complete the assignment mentioned above, you will upload the assignment to both the Introduction to Sociology dropbox and the Empirical and Quantitative Skills dropbox.

Please note that this only applies to the specific assignment listed in the matrix below. All other assignments should be submitted according to regular class operations.

If you have any questions, please see your instructor or contact the Institutional Effectiveness Office at (936) 468-1130.

The chart below indicates the core objectives addressed by this course, the assignment(s) that will be used to assess the objectives in this course and uploaded to the D2L Empirical and Quantitative Skills dropbox this semester, and the date the assignment(s) should be uploaded to the D2L Empirical and Quantitative Skills dropbox. Not every assignment will be submitted for core assessment every semester. Your instructor will notify you which assignment(s) must be submitted for assessment in the D2L Empirical and Quantitative Skills dropbox.

Core Curriculum Objectives

SOC 137 satisfies the university core curriculum requirement for three semester hours in the social and behavioral sciences. It supports four core curriculum learning objectives:

1. Critical Thinking Skills (CT) including creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information
2. Communication Skills (C) including effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral and visual communication
3. Empirical and Quantitative Skills (EQS) including the manipulation and analysis of numerical data or observable facts resulting in informed conclusions
4. Social Responsibility (SR) including intercultural competence, knowledge of civic responsibility, and the ability to engage effectively in regional, national, and global communities

Program Learning Outcomes

SOC 137 is a required course in the Sociology Program for majors and minors. It supports the following program learning outcomes:

PLO1 The students will be able to identify, compare, and contrast sociological classical and contemporary theories.

PLO2 The student will be able to identify the principles of good social scientific research design. Such principles include validity, reliability, precision in measurement, and sampling methodology.

PLO3 The student will possess sociological knowledge as evidenced by the identification of the major concepts involved with social stratification, demography, race and ethnic relations, deviance, and globalization.

PLO4 The student will be able to apply sociological knowledge and skills to a variety of settings.

PLO5 The student will recognize the implicit assumptions behind claims of knowledge about the social world, will be able to evaluate and distinguish between strong and weak arguments, and will be able to draw conclusions from a set of premises.

PLO6 The student will be able to read theoretical arguments and to identify their major strengths and weaknesses.

PLO7 The student will be able to analyze a data set using statistical techniques and draw conclusions from the results.

Student Learning Outcomes (SLO)

Upon completion of this course, students should be able to do the following things at a basic level:

1. Identify, compare, and contrast sociological classical and contemporary theories.
2. Identify the principles of good social scientific research design. Such principles include validity, reliability, and sampling methodology.
3. Identify the major concepts involved with social stratification, race and ethnic relations, deviance, gender, and institutions.
4. Apply sociological knowledge and skills to everyday life.
5. Recognize the implicit assumptions behind claims of knowledge about the social world, evaluate and distinguish between strong and weak arguments, and draw conclusions from a set of premises.
6. Demonstrate critical thinking skills including inquiry, and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information.
7. Demonstrate communication skills including effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written communication and effective interpretation of oral and visual communication.
8. Demonstrate empirical and quantitative skills including the manipulation and analysis of numerical data or observable facts resulting in informed conclusions.
9. Demonstrate social responsibility through awareness of cultural similarities and differences, understanding of civic responsibility, and knowledge of social issues necessary to effectively participate in regional, national, and global communities.

Academic Integrity (A-9.1)

Academic integrity is a responsibility of all university faculty and students. Faculty members promote academic integrity in multiple ways including instruction on the components of academic honesty, as well as abiding by university policy on penalties for cheating and plagiarism.

Definition of Academic Dishonesty
Academic dishonesty includes both cheating and plagiarism. Cheating includes but is not limited to (1) using or attempting to use unauthorized materials to aid in achieving a better grade on a component of a class; (2) the falsification or invention of any information, including citations, on an assigned exercise; and/or (3) helping or attempting to help another in an act of cheating or plagiarism. Plagiarism is presenting the words or ideas of another person as if they were your own. Examples of plagiarism are (1) submitting an assignment as if it were one's own work when, in fact, it is at least partly the work of another; (2) submitting a work that has been purchased or otherwise obtained from an Internet source or another source; and (3) incorporating the words or ideas of an author into one's paper without giving the author due credit. Please read the complete policy at http://www.sfasu.edu/policies/academic_integrity.asp

Withheld Grades Semester Grades Policy (A-54)

Ordinarily, at the discretion of the instructor of record and with the approval of the academic chair/director, a grade of WH will be assigned only if the student cannot complete the course work because of unavoidable circumstances. Students must complete the work within one calendar year from the end of the semester in which they receive a WH, or the grade automatically becomes an F. If students register for the same course in future terms the WH will automatically become an F and will be counted as a repeated course for the purpose of computing the grade point average.

Students with Disabilities

To obtain disability related accommodations, alternate formats and/or auxiliary aids, students with disabilities must contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS), Human Services Building, and Room 325, 468-3004 / 468-1004 (TDD) as early as possible in the semester. Once verified, ODS will notify the course instructor and outline the accommodation and/or auxiliary aids to be provided. Failure to request services in a timely manner may delay your accommodations. For additional information, go to http://www.sfasu.edu/disabilityservices/.

Stephen F. Austin State University Non-Discrimination Statement

Stephen F. Austin State University strives to provide an educational and work environment that affirms the rights and dignity of each individual. It is the policy of the university, in accordance with federal and state law, to prohibit unlawful discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, disability, genetic information, citizenship and veteran status. Unlawful discrimination based on sex includes discrimination defined as sexual harassment. Additionally, Stephen F. Austin State University prohibits discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation, gender identity, and gender expression.

The Discrimination Complaints policy (2.11) and the Sexual Misconduct policy (2.13) outline the university's commitment and details the procedures used to investigate complaints.
It is the responsibility of the university president to ensure that SFA and all its constituencies comply with the provisions of this policy and with all federal and state laws, executive orders and regulations regarding non-discrimination. Discrimination complaints and/or questions concerning university discrimination complaint procedures may be directed to the following designated officials:
