Message from the AARC:
Visit the SFA Academic Assistance and Resource Center (AARC)! The AARC provides a variety of free academic support programs for students at SFA. Our services include 1:1 appointments, walk-in tables, online tutoring (through Zoom), learning teams, and SI. We also provide academic skills workshops upon request.

ENGL 1301: Rhetoric and Composition: Study and application of the writing process and the skills of writing with a focus on analytical reading and writing. Essay assignments address rhetorical analysis and evaluation and critical responses to close readings of texts. Required of all students who do not qualify for ENGL 1303 opens in new window. Must earn a grade of C or higher to be admitted to ENGL 1302 opens in new window. Prerequisite(s): acceptable THEA score or at least a C in INRW 0399 English 1301

Student Learning Outcomes:
At the completion of this course, students will be able to:

• Identify and analyze texts with the goal of examining the rhetorical structure, veracity of claims, sufficient use of accurate and credible evidence, as well as possible use in creative, analytical, and persuasive components (Critical Thinking);

• Participate in productive class and group discussion and examination of texts, in order to analyze and synthesize a variety of texts, via a multi-step drafting process (Critical Thinking);

• Understand the role of personal responsibility in the inevitable choices involved in the composition process, in the evaluation of one’s own writing and the writing of other students, in the ethical use of ideas and information, and in the critical evaluation of all assigned texts (Personal Responsibility);

• Recognize the collaborative and social aspects of the writing process by producing collaborative work and/or feedback for peers and selectively using peer feedback in their own work (Teamwork);

• Demonstrate knowledge of organizational and linguistic structures – including grammar, punctuation, and spelling – through practice in composing and revising (Communication);

• Compose texts in response to a variety of situations and contexts calling for purposeful shifts in voice, tone, level of formality, design, medium, and/or structure (Communication).
General Education Core Curriculum

The Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board has identified six core learning objectives: Critical Thinking Skills, Communication Skills, Empirical and Quantitative Skills, Teamwork, Personal Responsibility, and Social Responsibility. SFA is committed to the improvement of its general education core curriculum by regular assessment of student performance on these six objectives. By enrolling in ENGL 1301 you are also enrolling in a Core Curriculum Course that fulfills the Communications requirement. The chart below indicates: (a) The core objectives that are required to be taught in this course per the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board (THECB), (b) How the required core objectives will be addressed.

Credit Hour Justification ENG 131

“Rhetoric and Composition” (3 credits) meets three times each week in fifty-minute segments or twice each week in seventy-five-minute segments for fifteen weeks, and meets during finals week according to the final exam schedule. Students complete weekly topical readings as well as writing and discussion activities related to those readings. Students write a minimum of four essays with a total page count of at least fifteen pages of finished writing. Emphasis is placed on writing processes, including multiple drafts and short assignments that require generating, revising and editing writing. Final exams typically include presentations of student writing. These activities average six hours of work outside of classroom hours.

Class Materials

- Writer’s Notebook (spiral, journal, etc.)
- Folder in which you will keep current drafts of your writing.
- Course readings posted on Brightspace
- Access to a computer, printer, and Brightspace Assigned Readings and Annotations

Most reading assignments require you to demonstrate that you annotated the text using markup and marginal notes. We will annotate printed texts during the first part of the course. This means that you need access to a printer.

Four ways to receive feedback about your writing before turning in final drafts:

1. Participate in peer writing groups
2. Attend office hours. If my office hours don’t fit your schedule, you can request a ZOOM meeting at a different time.
3. Upload a rough draft to each essay’s rough draft dropbox. You can upload a full draft, a page, a paragraph – whatever you want me to read. Rough drafts are not graded and are not required.
4. Visit the AARC Writing Center. Make sure that you take a copy of the essay prompt. Tell the tutor what you’ve done so far with the assignment. Prepare two or three specific questions that you want the tutor to answer about your writing, or give them instructions for the kind of feedback you want (e.g. “I’m going to read my draft to you. Stop me when something doesn’t make sense.”). http://www.sfasu.edu/aarc/help-with-writing

Conferences

Conferences give us a chance to talk one-on-one about your writing and progress in the course. Conferences will be held via ZOOM.

Participation and Attendance Our class meetings involve active learning. Class attendance is very important. When you don’t attend class, you miss out on important information about the current assignment, learning opportunities, and a sense of connection to our class community. You have three unexcused absences over the course of the semester. Three – five unexcused absences will negatively affect your attendance grade. You may fail the class at six or more unexcused absences.

Excused absences

All university-sponsored events are excused absences. I do not require doctor’s notes when you are sick. If you have excessive absences due to factors beyond your control, I encourage you to contact the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities (OSRR) and request an absence notification be sent to your instructors.

Academic Integrity (A-9.1)

Academic integrity is a responsibility of all university faculty and students. Faculty members promote academic integrity in multiple ways including instruction on the components of academic honesty, as well as abiding by university policy on penalties for cheating and plagiarism. Definition of Academic Dishonesty Academic dishonesty includes both cheating and plagiarism. Cheating includes but is not limited to

1. using or attempting to use unauthorized materials to aid in achieving a better grade on a component of a class;
2. the falsification or invention of any information, including citations, on an assigned exercise; and/or
3. helping or attempting to help another in an act of cheating or plagiarism. Plagiarism is presenting the words or ideas of another person as if they were your own.

Examples of plagiarism are

1. submitting an assignment as if it were one's own work when, in fact, it is at least partly the work of another;
(2) submitting a work that has been purchased or otherwise obtained from an Internet source or another source; and

(3) incorporating the words or ideas of an author into one's paper without giving the author due credit.

Please read the complete policy at http://www.sfasu.edu/policies/academic_integrity.asp Late Work I don’t count off for late work; however, your ability to participate in class activities, stay current with the Brightspace assignments, and successfully complete the major essays depends on you completing assignments on time.

Withheld Grades

Semester Grades Policy (A-54) Ordinarily, at the discretion of the instructor of record and with the approval of the academic chair/director, a grade of WH will be assigned only if the student cannot complete the course work because of unavoidable circumstances. Students must complete the work within one calendar year from the end of the semester in which they receive a WH, or the grade automatically becomes an F. If students register for the same course in future terms the WH will automatically become an F and will be counted as a repeated course for the purpose of computing the grade point average.

Students with Disabilities

Please copy and paste the following statement and place in your course syllabus. To obtain disability related accommodations, alternate formats and/or auxiliary aids, students with disabilities must contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS), Human Services Building, and Room 325, 468-3004 / 468-1004 (TDD) as early as possible in the semester. Once verified, ODS will notify the course instructor and outline the accommodation and/or auxiliary aids to be provided. Failure to request services in a timely manner may delay your accommodations. For additional information, go to http://www.sfasu.edu/disabilityservices/.

Statement as a Responsible Employee / Lumberjacks Care SFA strives to provide an educational and work environment that affirms the rights and dignity of each individual. It is the policy of the university, in accordance with federal and state law, to prohibit unlawful gender or sex-based discrimination or harassment, including sexual assault, sexual harassment, intimate partner and dating violence, and stalking. Please be aware that all SFA employees (other than those designated as confidential resources, such as advocates, counselors and health care providers employed in these capacities by the university and as listed in section 4.5 of Policy 2.13) are required to report information about such discrimination and harassment to the university. This means that if you tell a faculty member about a situation of gender-based discrimination, sexual harassment, and/or sexual violence or other related misconduct as outlined in Policy 2.13, the faculty member must share that information with the university’s Title IX coordinator. If you would like to speak to a confidential resource who does not have this reporting responsibility, you can find a list of resources at www.sfasu.edu/Lumberjacks-care.
Mental Health and Wellness

SFA values students’ mental health and the role it plays in academic and overall student success. SFA provides a variety of resources to support students' mental health and wellness. Many of these resources are free, and all of them are confidential.
