Course Description: The course is designed as a comprehensive survey course in Texas history beginning with pre-Columbian contact and continuing until the contemporary era. The primary focus of the course will be the various political, social, and cultural themes that have played key roles in the development of Texas and Texans. The emphasized themes will be the ones the instructor feels most essential in gaining an understanding of Texas in a historical perspective. A key element of the course will be the growth of critical thinking among the students concerning the examination of historical themes and paradigms. Students will also be asked to read historical monographs outside of class and be able to provide a critical analysis of each work within the constraints of an academic book review.

Class requirements are as follows:
Because this is an online course, you will generally be responsible for your schedule. As you will see in the schedule portion, we will cover a number of topics during each week. In the course of that week, you will be required to read a textual “lecture” that will contain the pertinent concepts that you should consider and learn concerning the week’s material. There will also be a mandatory discussion exercise that will cover the material introduced each week. The discussion exercise will be a graded portion of the course, with instructions for completion included later in the syllabus. You will have one week to complete the discussion section. You are responsible for your own weekly schedule of course activity, but you must be aware of due dates and requirements. What that means is that you cannot try to complete the entire course in the last week of the semester. I expect each student to craft a schedule that conforms with the due dates and requirements of the course.

Another caveat that you should note: Just because we are not holding class at a specified period does not mean that the time spent on this course should be any different than a face-to-face class. The content text of the course is analogous to a lecture period in a face-to-face class. A lecture portion is approximately 150 minutes each week, which means that your time spent interacting with your textual content should equal that period. It is not designed to be a “quick read,” but instead one that you should not only read but digest and, if you need to do so, take notes over. The discussion portion for each week corresponds to the textual content, thus you should read and understand the content and then complete your discussion.
As you can discern, the material for this class is not something that you can normally complete in “one sitting” and it is not designed to do so. My advice is that each student engage at least three hours, and more likely four-to-five hours each week with the material.

Understand that due dates are final and non-negotiable except for extraordinary circumstances.

Exams, Quizzes, and Grading: There will be two one hundred twenty (120) point examinations in the course, one at mid-term and an exam during the final examination period, which will only cover material not included on the first exam. The exams will consist of 12 short answer questions/terms and they will be worth ten (10) points each (120 points). The exam will appear under the “quizzes” tab and you will complete it on the site. It will be a “timed” exercise; you will have 120 minutes (2 hours) to complete the exam from the point you begin it, and after that time period you will not be able to make any changes, additions or alterations. Please make sure you understand this requirement.

Exam #1 will “open” for completion on Oct. 4 at 1:00 A.M. and you will have until 11:59 p.m. on Oct. 10 to complete the exam. As stated earlier, you will have 120 minutes to complete the exam after you begin it. The second exam will open for completion on Dec. 5 at 1:00 A.M. and will close at 11:59 p.m. on Dec 8. Please note that because this is during Finals week that you have a shorter period in which to complete the exam. Again, you will have 120 minutes to complete it.

You will also be required to complete two book reviews over the assigned texts. There will be a required format that you must use to write your review posted in the content section of the course. It will be listed in the Table of Contents under “Book Review Format.” Each review will be worth seventy-five (75) points, for a total of 150 points. You will upload the Reviews to the “dropbox” for the course that you will find on the Course page. The due dates for the Reviews will be as follows (they will also be listed in the schedule portion of the syllabus):

Review over The Last Days of Sam Houston due at 11:59 p.m. on Sept. 19
Review over Lone Star Suburbs due at 11:59 p.m. on Nov. 21

You may certainly turn your review in earlier than the due date if you so wish.

There will also be a historical writing exercise that will give you the opportunity to have your entry published in a coming book commemorating SFA’s upcoming Centennial Anniversary in 2023. “100 Years, 100 Lumberjacks” will include biographical vignettes over 100 selected people who have either attended or have been associated with SFA. You will have the opportunity to write one of the entries. At a later date you will be allowed to choose one person from a list and do the research and write the entry for the publication. If you do so, and complete all portions including revisions, then you will receive 75 points in the course as well as a byline as an entry author in the publication. Soon after the semester begins I will post a sample entry to give you an idea about how to complete the entry as well as the instructions for the process to choose a subject to write. The due dates for this exercise are as follows:

Topic choice: Sept. 27
First Draft: Nov. 1
Final Entry: Dec. 3

If you do not wish to write an entry you may write a third book review over a book that I will choose for you that you may check out from a library. It will also be worth 75 points.

You will turn in both of these assignments via the dropbox feature.

You will also be required to complete a weekly discussion exercise. Each week, under “Discussion,” you will be asked to provide a cogent and thoughtful response to a series (3-4) of conceptual questions. You will have one week to complete the exercise. The discussion portion is graded, but only in a general “pass/fail” manner. If you complete the exercise you will receive full credit; discussion is worth eighty (80) points, so if you complete your exercise each week you will receive the full credit. For any question that you do not provide a response for, you will lose 2 points from your discussion total. For example, if there are four questions for the week—and that will be standard—and you fail to complete any, then you will lose 8 points from your discussion total. Discussion can be a valuable study exercise as it will help you begin to formulate answers for items on your exam.

Grade Schematic:

- Book Reviews--------------------------2@ 75: 150 points
- Discussion----------------------------------: 80 points
- Exams-------------------------------------2@120: 240 points
- Bio Project/Bk revw.-----------------------1@75:75 points
- Total points-------------------------------- : 545 points

Your grade will be a percentage of the total, following the traditional 100% scheme.

Program Learning Outcomes:
The SFA History Department has identified the following Program Learning Outcomes (PLOs) for all SFA students earning a B.A. degree in History:

1. Interpret the past in context.
2. Understand the complex nature of the historical record.
3. Engage in historical inquiry, research, and analysis.
4. Craft historical narrative and argument.
5. Practice historical thinking as central to engaged citizenship.

This section of this course will focus on PLOs 1-4

Student Learning Outcomes:
The more specific outcomes for this particular course are as follows:

1. The student will be able to cogently explain the various forces that shaped the historical progression of Texas and Texans.

2. The student will be able to understand and explain the key transformative events in Texas history that contributed to the development of the region, state, and its people.

3. The student will be able to understand, identify, describe, and analyze the diverse nature of the region and state and how that diversity has contributed to the nature of modern Texas.

4. The student will be able to explain the special problems that have helped shape the history of Texas since European contact.

Explanation of credit hours awarded for course:
This is an upper-level history course. Upper-level lecture courses in history meet for 150 minutes each week for 15 weeks and also meet for a 2-hour final examination. Students typically have weekly reading assignments from a combination of textbooks, monographs, scholarly articles, primary document collections, and supplemental materials (biographies, historical novels, memoirs, etc). The level of reading is more advanced than that required in lower-level surveys, and the number of pages students are required to read is generally higher. Typical upper-level courses require students to take 2-3 essay exams per semester, in addition to the final exam, which is also generally a written exam. In addition, out-of-class writing assignments (book reviews, biographical sketches, research papers, etc) are typically required in upper-level courses. Course instructors are required to hold regular scheduled office hours to make themselves available to consult with students as needed. Combined, studying for exams, doing the required reading, completing writing assignments, and consulting with course instructors average two hours of work outside the classroom for every hour spent in the classroom. Online sections of upper-level courses contain extensive written content within modules, and instructors hold "electronic office hours" to consult with students as needed, generally responding to student inquiries within twenty-four hours. Online course content includes the same information students in a face-to-face lecture course receive, requiring students to engage the online modules for at least 150 minutes per week. Besides engaging the material in the modules, online students have outside reading assignments similar to those mentioned above for face-to-face students. Thus, for every hour an online student spends engaging the content in the modules, he/she spends at least two hours completing associated activities and assessments.

Academic Integrity (A-9.I)
Academic integrity is a responsibility of all university faculty and students. Faculty members promote academic integrity in multiple ways including instruction on the components of academic honesty, as well as abiding by university policy on penalties for cheating and plagiarism.

Definition of Academic Dishonesty
Academic dishonesty includes both cheating and plagiarism. Cheating includes but is not limited to (1) using or attempting to use unauthorized materials to aid in achieving a better grade on a component of a class; (2) the falsification or invention of any information, including citations, on an assigned exercise; and/or (3) helping or attempting to help another in an act of cheating or plagiarism. Plagiarism is presenting the words or ideas of another person as if they were your own. Examples of plagiarism are (1) submitting an assignment as if it were one's own work when, in fact, it is at least partly the work of another; (2) submitting a work that has been purchased or otherwise obtained from an Internet source or another source; and (3) incorporating the words or ideas of an author into one's paper without giving the author due credit. Please read the complete policy at http://www.sfasu.edu/policies/4.1-student-academic-dishonesty.pdf

Withheld Grades (Semester Grades Policy, A-54)
Ordinarily, at the discretion of the instructor of record and with the approval of the academic chair/director, a grade of WH will be assigned only if the student cannot complete the course work because of unavoidable circumstances. Students must complete the work within one calendar year from the end of the semester in which they receive a WH, or the grade automatically becomes an F. If students register for the same course in future terms the WH will automatically become an F and will be counted as a repeated course for the purpose of computing the grade point average.

Students with Disabilities
To obtain disability related accommodations, alternate formats and/or auxiliary aids, students with disabilities must contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS), Human Services Building, and Room 325, 468-3004 / 468-1004 (TDD) as early as possible in the semester. Once verified, ODS will notify the course instructor and outline the accommodation and/or auxiliary aids to be provided. Failure to request services in a timely manner may delay your accommodations. For additional information, go to http://www.sfasu.edu/disabilityservices/.

Plagiarism
Plagiarism and cheating will not be tolerated. Any student caught in such unethical activity will receive a zero for the assignment. Serious violations, such as stealing an exam or downloading a paper from the internet, will result in automatic failure of the course. I will also report cheating to your dean as described in university policy A-9.1. Under this policy, students charged with more than one violation during their academic careers will be summoned before the University Committee on Academic Integrity. If the Committee validates the charges, it may place students on probation or suspend them. You may read the policy, including your right to appeal charges of dishonesty, at: http://www.sfasu.edu/upp/pap/academic_affairs/CHEATING_AND_PLAGIARISM.html

Course Schedule:

Week One: August 23-Aug. 29
Pre-Columbian Era through the End of Spanish Texas

Week Two: August 30-Sept. 5
Mexican Texas through Revolution/Republic

Week Three: Sept. 6-Sept. 12
Early Statehood through the Beginning of the Civil War
Week Four: Sept. 13-Sept. 19
Texas and Civil War/Reconstruction
Book Review #1: The Last Days of Sam Houston due Sept. 19.

Week Five: Sept. 20-Sept. 26
Cattlemen and Sharecroppers through the Progressive Era

Week Six: Sept. 27-Oct. 3
“Fergusonism through 1920s Society and Politics

Week Seven: Oct. 4-Oct. 10
Texas and the Great Depression through the end of World War II
Exam 1 due Oct. 10

Week Eight: Oct. 11-Oct. 17
Rise of Modern Texas through Texas Politics in the 1950s and 1960s

Week Nine: Oct. 18-Oct. 24
Texas and Civil Rights

Week Ten: Oct. 25-Oct. 31
1960s and 1970s Texas

Week Eleven: Nov. 1-Nov. 7
The Rise of a “Superstate:” Texas in the 1980s and 1990s

Week Twelve: Nov. 8-Nov. 14
The Reddest Red State: Texas at the Turn of the Twenty-first Century

Week Thirteen: Nov. 15-Nov. 21
Reflection
Book Review #3 over Lone Star Suburbs due Nov. 21

Nov. 22-Nov. 28: Thanksgiving Holiday

Week Fourteen: Nov. 29-Dec. 5
Exam Prep: No assignments due

Exam #2: will open on Dec. 5 but must be completed on Dec. 8: Note that this is a shorter window for completion that the other midterm because this is Finals week and by University policy Final Exams must be completed by Midnight on Thursday.