1- Course Nature: completely online via D2L

2- Course Prerequisites: Admission into the Principal Preparation Program

3- Course Description:

This course embraces the premise that the practice of public school leadership in a liberal democracy is a cultural rather than a technical activity. As such, public school leadership should be situated in culture and justified against one version or another of the democratic principle. In this course, students will be able to read, interpret, critique, write, and practice public school leadership that is located at the intersection of five overlapping spheres. The first is philosophical, concerned with philosophy and different theories of democracy and education. The second is cultural and is concerned with the institutional, socio-cultural, economic, legal, political, and historical dimensions of public education. The third is academic and its purpose is to expose students to the leadership literature and its many voices. The fourth sphere is professional and is concerned with the student’s experiential school life and how this life shapes the student’s philosophy of leadership. The last sphere is personal and it is about the student’s autobiographical voice as it shapes her corresponding leadership framework. It is at the intersection of these five overlapping spheres that students in this course will be able to negotiate and shape their understanding of public school leadership and its democratic and cultural dimensions.

This is a fully online 3 credit course that spans about 50 instructional days. The course contains extensive written content that includes the same information students in a face-to-face lecture course receive, requiring students to engage the online modules for at least three hours per week. In addition to extensive readings, students are required to participate in multiple discussion forums and complete multiple assignments. All these culminate in a capstone paper that requires extensive synthesis and writing. For every hour a student spends engaging with the content, he/she spends at least two hours completing associated activities and assessments.

4- Course’s Vision, Mission, and Core Values:

This course is aligned with the Perkins College of education’s Vision, Mission, and Core Values. More specifically, this course aims to prepare competent, successful, caring and enthusiastic professionals from diverse backgrounds dedicated to responsible service, leadership, social justice and continued professional and intellectual development in an interconnected global society. In addition, the course the aligned to the Department of Secondary Education & Educational Leadership’s vision, one that seeks to prepare teachers as school leaders committed to youth, scholarship and lifelong learning through a scholar-practitioner learning community characterized by a learner-centered curriculum, field experience, mentoring, and practical inquiry.

5- Program Learning Outcomes:

1. The student will apply skills, content knowledge, and knowledge of necessary dispositions regarding the role of an effective school leader.
2. The student will demonstrate an understanding of basic principles and foundations of school leadership.
3. The student will demonstrate instructional leadership skills in working with faculty on issues of instruction, curriculum, culture, and professional development.
4. The student will demonstrate and apply leadership skills through school-level practicum experiences.
5. The student will demonstrate building level leadership skills in supporting P-12 student learning within a school.
6. The student will exhibit school leadership skills in organizational management and community relations developing effective school-based management and resource systems and school-community partnerships.

Other other SFA Policy Information

Academic expectations: this is a synthetic and integrated graduate course that requires an investment on your behalf of time and effort. To stay in control, please be as organized as you could. Planning your time properly cannot be more important for any course you take, and especially so for online courses. You are expected to submit assignments of good quality and respond promptly to communications by course instructor and other colleagues.

Intellectual expectations: in this course, you are expected to demonstrate some essential intellectual characteristics including but not limited to those of inquiry, critique, openness, reflexivity, and rigor.

Personal expectations: in this course, you are expected to treat everybody with respect and good manners. Your communications should meet professional standards expected from a graduate student and an aspiring pre-service educational leader. “Netiquette” is always a good idea!

Work quality: as a graduate student, you are expected to put your best in completing the course work. Assignments should be completed with care, meet all assignment criteria, and show authenticity, inventiveness, and depth. Your writing is expected to be coherent, creative, and does not include spelling, syntax, or grammar mistakes (please let me know should you require any help with your writing so that we find ways to do this). You are expected to use APA style for formatting, citation, and referencing at all times. I try my best to give assignment feedback within a week after your submission.

Participation and engagement: in this course, you are expected to engage with course materials, your colleagues, and your instructor in authentic ways that will contribute to your growth and other students in the class. As a rule of thumb, a 3 credit online graduate course may require something between 6 and 9 hours of work every week.

Late and missing work:
1) All major assignments must be completed in order to receive an A in the course.
2) Assignments not completed by the due date may only receive up to 80% of the total grade. For example, if you would have otherwise made a 100 on a late assignment, then you will receive an 80. Had you made a 90, then you will receive a 70.

_Hints for success:_ be organized and manage your time properly. Be proactive. Communicate if you need to. Always reflect on this experience against your intellectual, professional, and personal reality and aspirations.

_Instructor support:_ I am here to help you WHENEVER you need help, and it does NOT matter how many times you will need it! Please communicate with me as frequent as you need to. This is my job here! It will be my pleasure to answer an email of yours, communicate with you via Skype, or meet you in person if you need to.

_Course Evaluation:_ Near the conclusion of each semester, students in the Perkins College of Education electronically evaluate courses taken within the PCOE. Evaluation data is used for a variety of important purposes including:
1. Course and program improvement, planning, and accreditation;
2. Instruction evaluation purposes; and
3. Making decisions on faculty tenure, promotion, pay, and retention.
As you evaluate this course, please be thoughtful, thorough, and accurate in completing the evaluation. Please know that the PCOE faculty is committed to excellence in teaching and continued improvement. Therefore, your response is critical!"

In the Perkins College of Education, the course evaluation process has been simplified and is completed electronically through MySFA. Although the instructor will be able to view the names of students who complete the survey, all ratings and comments are confidential and anonymous, and summarized data will not be available to the instructor until after final grades are posted.

_TEA Educators’ Code of Ethics:_ Please refer to the following link.

_Mental Health:_ SFASU values students’ mental health and the role it plays in academic and overall student success. SFA provides a variety of resources to support students’ mental health and wellness. Many of these resources are free, and all of them are confidential.
