Class meeting time and place: Time TBD in Wright Music Building 124C

Course Description:
Percussion studies at Stephen F. Austin State University are designed to develop the highest possible level of musicianship, performance and teaching proficiency within a total percussion curriculum. The junior and senior years (courses 319 and 329) will specifically focus on orchestral excerpts, four-mallet keyboards w/Burton grip (jazz studies including improvisation), continued/advanced study in any needed/requested areas, and preparation for solo recitals. The understanding and development of technical facilities, a cross-section of literature, sight-reading skills and ensemble applications are required skills on each instrument, in addition to regular performances in studio classes, clinics/masterclasses and juries. For music majors in music degree program. Placement audition required. Instruction in percussion. May be repeated for credit. May not be taken for audit.

Student Learning Outcomes:
1. Through lesson assignments, private practice, and studio class/jury performance, students will demonstrate the required technical facilities to meet the needs of artistic expression specific to the instruments studied including: orchestral percussion (snare drum, timpani and accessories), keyboards (two and four mallets), and drumset.
2. Through textbook, etude and solo study, students will be familiar with a thorough cross-section of pedagogical and solo literature in all areas of percussion.
3. Through literature study and performance, students will demonstrate the practical application of theory and aural skills on their performance instrument.
4. Through regular solo/ensemble rehearsal and performance, students will demonstrate a working ability to sight-read on all percussion instruments.
5. Through studio class, jury, barrier and recital performance, students will demonstrate the physical and mental skills needed to successfully perform in front of an audience.
6. Through studio class performance and discussion, students will demonstrate the ability to recognize, evaluate, and correct common percussion performance problems.
7. Through studio classes, website reviews, and guest artist visits, students will be aware of new and innovative techniques, literature, the percussion industry, professional artists in the field, and the Percussive Arts Society on a national and worldwide scale.
8. Through the senior recital (if applicable), students will demonstrate the ability to program, prepare for (including all logistics), and perform a solo percussion recital.
9. Through lesson and ensemble participation, students will demonstrate the proper care, maintenance, and logistical requirements (set-up, transportation) for all percussion instruments.
10. Through departmental convocations, students will be familiar with the other voices and instruments within the department, as well as the accomplishments of their peers.
11. Through performance assignments outside the regular curriculum (choir, orchestras, musicals/operas, and various community events), students will demonstrate how to adapt and perform in a variety of musical settings and venues.

Text and Materials:
The student is responsible for acquiring all implements, instruments, method books and solo material deemed necessary by the instructor. Photo-copying is illegal and should only be done when a certain item is out of print or as an interim means before ordered materials can be obtained. It is a good idea to budget $100 a semester for sticks, mallets, music and other items as needed.

Course Requirements:
Students will be given weekly assignments that will culminate in learning solos on various instruments between three to eight weeks, depending on the difficulty of literature selected. The end of the semester will conclude with a jury/recital of representative material learned during the semester. If the student is to play for a jury at the end of the semester, the student should discuss with Dr. Vilseck at the mid-term as to which solos will be required for the end of semester jury. If a recital is to be played at the end of the semester, students should discuss with Dr. Vilseck at the first week of school as to which solos will be required for the recital.

Course Calendar:
MUP 119 “Applied Percussion” (2 credits) and MUP 129 “Applied Percussion” (3 credits) meet twice a week (Studio Class on Wednesday for 50-minutes and a private lesson time to be determined at the beginning of the semester for 50-minutes) is a 15-week class that also includes a 10-minute jury at the end of the semester. Lessons will consist of studying solo literature, technical exercises, scales, and standard repertoire covering one mallet instrument (marimba, vibraphone, xylophone, glockenspiel) and one drum instrument (timpani, snare drum, drumset, multi-percussion) throughout the semester.

MUP 119 students are expected to practice assigned materials individually that may include etudes, exercises, daily routines, ensemble music, and/or solos for at least two hours daily, six days per week for a total of twelve hours of outside preparation each week for fifteen weeks. Students are also expected to attend or perform in required recitals, upper levels, and/or juries which is typically an additional five-/ten-hour time requirement during the fifteen-week semester.

MUP 129 students are expected to practice assigned materials individually that may include etudes, exercises, daily routines, ensemble music, and/or solos at least four hours daily, six days per week for a total of twenty-four hours of outside preparation each week for fifteen weeks. Students are also expected to attend or perform in required recitals, upper levels, and/or juries which is typically an additional five- to ten-hour time requirement during the fifteen-week semester.

Academic Integrity (4.I)
The Code of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity outlines the prohibited conduct by any student enrolled in a course at SFA. It is the responsibility of all members of all faculty, staff, and students to adhere to and uphold this policy.

Articles IV, VI, and VII of the new Code of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity outline the violations and procedures concerning academic conduct, including cheating, plagiarism, collusion, and misrepresentation. Cheating includes, but is not limited to: (1) Copying from the test paper (or other assignment) of another student, (2) Possession and/or use during a test of materials that are not authorized by the person giving the test, (3) Using, obtaining, or attempting to obtain by any means the whole or any part of a non-administered test, test key, homework solution, or computer program, or using a test that has been administered in prior classes or semesters without permission of the Faculty member, (4) Substituting for another person, or permitting another person to substitute for one’s self, to take a test, (5) Falsifying research data, laboratory reports, and/or other records or academic work offered for credit, (6) Using any sort of unauthorized resources or technology in completion of educational activities.

Plagiarism is the appropriation of material that is attributable in whole or in part to another source or the use of one’s own previous work in another context without citing that it was used previously, without any indication of the original source, including words, ideas, illustrations, structure, computer code, and other expression or media, and presenting that material as one’s own academic work being offered for credit or in conjunction with a program course or degree requirements.

Collusion is the unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing academic assignments offered for credit or collaboration with another person to commit a violation of any provision of the rules on academic dishonesty, including disclosing and/or distributing the contents of an exam.

Misrepresentation is providing false grades or résumés; providing false or misleading information in an effort to receive a postponement or an extension on a test, quiz, or other assignment for the purpose of obtaining an academic or financial benefit for oneself or another individual or to injure another student academically or financially.

Withheld Grades Semester Grades Policy (5.5)
Ordinarily, at the discretion of the instructor of record and with the approval of the academic chair/director, a grade of WH will be assigned only if the student cannot complete the coursework because of unavoidable circumstances. Students must complete the work within one calendar year from the end of the semester in which they receive a WH, or the grade automatically becomes an F. If students register for the same course in future terms the WH will automatically become an F and will be counted as a repeated course to compute the grade point average.
