Course Format: Online hybrid format; the course is predominantly in an online format, with 15% of the course as live lectures and discussions through Zoom. Basically, the course is developed to be online/fully autonomous with periodic Zoom sessions to assist student learning.

Live Zoom Meetings: there are periodic live Zoom sessions (see tentative course schedule)

Office/Office hours: Online and virtual meetings through multimedia by appointment (e.g., online chats, Zoom, or phone); tentatively MW 4:00 -5:00 pm; TuTh 4:30 – 6:00 pm and by appointment

Email for Dr. Jacobi: jacobil@d2l.sfasu.edu (preferred) or jacobil@sfasu.edu

Phone: (936) 468-1407

*The book is required by all students. Any form of the book is acceptable (e-book, loose-leaf, hard cover, or Revel access with an e-book included)

You can rent an etext from the publisher for as low as $10.99/month for 4 months.

Revel: To access your course materials for Social Psychology PSYC 2319 Fall 2023 with Revel (which has embedded questions, but is more expensive that the etext)

Use the following link to access our section: https://console.pearson.com/enrollment/zx2rzd

(you can sign up for a 2-week free trial period if you are waiting for financial aid disbursement; in most cases, it is least expensive to purchase directly from the publisher)

In Revel, you will find the chapter content as well as periodic self-tests, which I have set up. These questions are similar in format and concept to the quiz and exam questions, and offer the opportunity to practice what you are learning. I have set up the chapter on Revel with the short self-tests. Completing these questions is not part of your grade directly, but will improve your performance on quizzes and exams. The hard copy of the text also has self-tests with the answer key in an Appendix. I strongly encourage all students to use these vital resources with whatever form of the text you obtain.

Course Description: Study of how thoughts, feelings, and behaviors of individuals relate to and are influenced by the presence of others. Topics include conformity, aggression, interpersonal attraction, close relationships, social cognition, attitudes, stereotypes, prejudice, and group and intergroup behaviors.

Course Credit: “Social Psychology” (3 credits) is designed to introduce students to the study of social interactions and social processes; the nature and characteristics of social groupings; types of social groupings; social change and stability; and development and change of attitudes. This course will also have practical applications as found in current research on group influences and reactions in experimental and naturalistic settings. The course typically meets 150 minutes (2.5 hours) a week in two 75-minute segments or three 50-minute segments for 16 weeks and a 2-hour final examination period. Students typically have significant weekly reading assignments, writing assignments, are expected to take regular tests, and a final examination. These out-of-class activities average at a minimum 6 hours of work each week in a 16-week course. Online course sections contain extensive written content that includes the same information students in a face-to-face lecture sections receive, requiring students to engage the online modules for at least three hours per week (16-week course) For every hour a student spends engaging with the online content, he/she spends at least two hours completing associated activities and assessments. Thus, as a 3-credit, 16-week course, students are expected to spend approximately 9 hours a week on this course. Each week, use the course schedule to guide you (as there are many due dates each week).

Program Learning Outcomes: Students will be able to understand and apply psychological principles to personal, social, and organizational issues.

Course Goals and Objectives: Upon successful completion of this course each student should: 1. Have developed and be able to use the scientific perspective in dealing with the content of social psychology and group behaviors.
2. Understand social interactions at both a personal, group, and a societal level.
3. Be knowledgeable about group behavior, conformity, attitude change, social influence, interpersonal attraction, aggression, and pro-social behaviors.
4. Utilize social psychological theories and related literature to predict group behaviors and critically analyze the role of the group in individuals’ behaviors.
5. Utilize critical thinking skills in an applied manner to predict and determine individual and group behavior.
6. Communicate information in an organized and effective manner.

Procedures for Accomplishing These Objectives: Students will find that class lectures and materials on D2L complement, clarify, and elaborate on material presented in the texts. Participation in the course modules in D2L is essential to aid in the understanding of the material and the development of critical thinking and analytical skills required in a college-level course. Audiovisual learning aids will be used when possible to facilitate learning. In addition to testing, this course has chapter quizzes, class discussions and assignments that are designed to allow students to integrate their understanding of the material and “test” individual and group behavior in a naturalistic environment. Students are expected to uphold the highest ethical behaviors in accordance with APA and university policy throughout this course.

Course Requirements: You must have access to the Internet, and be familiar with or learn to use Brightspace by D2L in order to take this course. For assistance, call D2L Brightspace support at 936-468-1919.

1. Participation: This course is online and will cover substantial amounts of information in each chapter. Consistently accessing and referring to D2L is extremely important to your understanding of the concepts and information in this course. It is recommended that you log onto the course at D2L regularly (daily) and consistently for a comparable amount of time that you would spend in class and studying for the course if it... were in a face-to-face format. Important announcement will be posted on the news/home page for the course in D2L. Additionally, I will send out emails through D2L, Zoom links, and other important information. All quizzes, exams, and discussions are on D2L.

2. Attendance during Live sessions and Viewing Content: All students will be expected to participate in all online Zoom sessions. Attendance will be recorded and monitored. Additionally, the amount of time spent on the online course materials in D2L will also be monitored. Students are expected to read all of the course content pages and watch all posted videos in their entirety (these videos typically highlight the concepts being covered). The time dedicated to the course will be monitored.

NOTE: Simply opening and closing a video or file without reading or viewing the content in its entirety will be noted and will detrimentally affect your performance.

3. Read the assigned chapters in the text along with reading the content of the modules. Be prepared to participate in discussions, complete assigned homework and quizzes, and ask pertinent questions and/or make relevant observations. Students are expected to read the textbook as well as all assigned supplemental materials. Reviewing your reading materials after the completing the module will enhance your retention of important information. You will need the textbook in order to successfully complete this course. Note: you are responsible for material from the text whether or not it is specifically covered in the module. The online module cannot possibly cover all of the material covered in the text and is a summation of the material. Additionally, there is material in the modules not covered in the text as well (this information will be included in exams).

4. Chapter Quizzes (20 points): There are closed book quizzes at the end of each module. Quizzes are of varying length from between 20 to 25 items. More information will be posted on D2L regarding the timing of the quizzes; however, the length that they are open depends on the length of the quiz. Only take the quiz when you feel ready as they are timed. During the quiz, you cannot refer to your book or other resources.

IMPORTANT: You may NOT work in conjunction with other students or be in communication with other students when taking quizzes or share information about the quiz with others. This is a direct violation of academic integrity and you will be reported to the Dean of the college for Academic Dishonesty. I reserve the right to fail students who collaborate on any graded assignment (quizzes, exams, or written assignments) as any collaboration is considered a violation of academic integrity/honesty. Make-up quizzes are not offered except in rare circumstances. Please direct any questions about the course or course content to Dr. Jacobi or the graduate assistant. You may study with other students prior to the opening of the exam or quiz. However, communication about a quiz of exam while other students are still taking the exam or quiz (and the test/quiz is still open) is a violation of academic integrity. Simply put, do NOT discuss exam/quiz questions or content with other students or persons. These are independent assessments. The average of all quiz grades will count towards 20% of your final grade.

5. Closed-book Exams (4@15 =60 points) There are four non-cumulative CLOSED BOOK exams in this course. Your exam performance will make up 60% of your final grade. Each exam is worth 15% of your final grade. You are expected to be prepared for these exams (do your readings in advance, complete the chapter modules, utilize any/all resources provided by the instructor, and STUDY). You CANNOT “cram” for the exam and expect to do well. Research has clearly and repeatedly demonstrated that spaced learning is far more effective than massed learning – space studying out in the days and weeks prior to the exam. Do not fall behind on readings and expect to catch up right before the exam. Ultimately, you are responsible for your success in this course. All exams are closed-book (exam 4 will be during the final examination period and is not cumulative and will only cover the last section of material covered). There will be virtual proctoring during exams and other measures to ensure that student do not engage in academic dishonesty during the exam. Do not cheat or try to cheat – you will be caught and it simply is not worth it. Academic dishonesty and cheating (in academics and in general) are not enviable or desirable characteristics; these behaviors reflect negatively on the individual(s) involved. When taking exams, all course related information should not be accessible to remove any temptation. Remember, all persons who engage in academic dishonesty will be reported to the Dean, which will remain in your permanent academic record. Additionally, you will fail the assignment and the instructor reserves the right to assign a failing grade for the course.

IMPORTANT POLICY on Make-up Exams: Make-up exams will only be given in RARE CIRCUMSTANCES, where arrangements are made in advance of the scheduled exam. Appropriate documentation must be presented in order to take a make-up exam, where appropriate documentation includes a written excuse from the Dean for a university sanctioned event (I should be notified in advance of any planned event). If you miss an exam and do not provide sufficient documentation, then you will receive a zero on the exam. If there is a true emergency and you are in danger of missing an exam, contact me ASAP and also contact the Office of Community Standards (http://www.sfasu.edu/judicial/), which is located in room 315 of the Rusk Building [936-468-2703]. I would recommend all students familiarize themselves with their website and service offered by the university. Whatever the situation, if there is a problem of any sort, it is essential that you communicate with Dr. Jacobi immediately (jacobil@sfasu.edu or jacobil@d2l.sfasu.edu).

6. Discussion Posts (in D2L) (20 points): There will be discussion posts assigned each week (the number varies by week) to facilitate student engagement and understanding, to read ideas and opinions of fellow students, and to promote course participation. Be sure to formulate your response using proper English that is grammatically correct. Some posts will be worth more points than others; minimum word lengths are provided to help ensure your completeness in answering the prompts. For some discussions, you are required to watch a video (part of the assessment is ensuring that you watched the video in its entirety and that you have read the relevant information for the discussion).

Discussion points are deducted for the following: discussion post offers vague or irrelevant information or opinion; discussion post has undue and obvious grammatical and spelling errors; discussion post only re-states what a classmate has already posted without adding student's unique interpretation or additional information; discussion post does not use relevant course concepts and/or terms. You will lose substantial points if the response is poorly written and/or full of grammatical, punctuation, and other writing errors. If you have difficulty writing clearly, then it is essential that you use the writing resources available to you (see the websites provided below, as well as the writing center in the AARC). As a college level course, your written communication skills are expected to commensurate with your education.

www.grammarly.com (this is free and is highly recommended to all students)

Note: it is not necessarily appropriate to disclose detailed personal matters in discussion posts. Discussion posts should be typed directly into the discussion forum. You are welcome to type out your initial response in Word and then cut and paste into the Discussion forum (that is up to you – I think that it can be very helpful for students to review their spelling and grammar prior to making their post). Discussion Posts are worth 20% of the final grade (slightly more than an exam).

- Helpful links for writing: (in addition to Grammarly, there are other free cites that are helpful)

Other Important Course Information:

- There are no make-up assignments for deadlines that are missed. Information will be posted in D2L (Brightspace) regarding the specific due dates for module activities. All due dates for quizzes, exams, and Zoom meetings are posted in the course schedule (in syllabus). Deadlines and due dates for initial post and 2 responses to others are posted in the Module – you should access the discussion posts through the modules.

- Click on the following link for tips on Netiquette (appropriate e-mail and discussion boards’ etiquette): https://bowvalleycollege.libguides.com/c.php?g=10214&p=52001

- Course behavior must not interfere with the instructor's ability to conduct the course or the ability of other students to learn from the instructional program (refer to Student Conduct code, policy D-34.1). Though students have the opportunity to participate and to engage in online discussions, it is not necessarily appropriate to discuss detailed personal matters. Also, you need to be respectful of others in all communications and discussion postings. Personal attacks on others will not be tolerated. Remember to treat others with kindness and respect.

- Important note and caution: This course may include videos, power-point slides, scenarios, etc., with mature themes, and may contain discussions of sensitive content related to maladaptive behavior and mature themes as a result of social influence. Students should consider these factors when determining if they are appropriate candidates for this course. Students experiencing difficulty have the option of exploring and/or accessing services available via Counseling Services at (936) 468-2401, or other mental health services. More information can be found at: http://www.sfasu.edu/counselingservices

- Important E-mail Information: E-mail from your personal e-mail account that is sent to the Professor’s sfasu.edu e-mail address is often directed to “Junk Mail” because it is not recognized by the server; thus, e-mails sent to my sfasu.edu address may not be received. Therefore, it is very important for students to use only the D2L address for e-mail communication with Dr. Jacobi (jacobil@d2l.sfasu.edu) and with the graduate teaching assistant.

  Remember that D2L is an internal email that cannot be sent to outside email addresses. The fastest way to reach me is through D2L. If you are in your SFA Jacks email, you cannot send an email to D2L, you would have to send me the email to my SFA email address at jacobil@sfasu.edu. However, keep in mind that I will be spending more time in D2L than in my SFA email, so the fastest way to reach me will be through D2L email.

- For students who are having academic difficulty in this class or any other class, remember there are free tutoring and other services through the AARC. If you are not doing well, first evaluate what you are and are not doing in the course. Are you doing the reading? Are you dedicating enough time to the course? Often low performance is associated with lack of time spent in the course. This can be remedied if identified early. As an 8-week course you cannot procrastinate and succeed. It is essential that you stay on top of deadlines and keep up with pace of the course.

- Again, to reiterate, students should check Brightspace by D2L frequently for important announcements, Zoom meeting dates and times, e-mails, assignments, discussion posts, quiz info, helpful links, etc. You are responsible for all information posted on Brightspace by D2L, and it is to your advantage to use it.

A = 89.5% and above, B = 79.5-89.4%, C = 69.5-79.4%, D= 59.5-69.4%, F= less than 59.5%

Grade cutoffs are FIRM. I will not raise your grade if you are “close,” so please do not ask should this circumstance arise. I strongly encourage all students to put forth full effort throughout the entire course so that you can earn the highest grade possible.

COURSE RULES: Following these few rules will help to maximize the PSYC 2319 online experience for you and your classmates:

- Read the assigned material, and turn in all required work on or before the day it is due. Allow ample time to avoid last minute snags or complications.

- Participate in online modules.

- Treat everyone in the class with respect and courtesy.

- Students are expected demonstrate professional behavior, and to use mature and courteous language with the Professor and classmates which is appropriate for the university learning experience.

- Ask questions!

- Remember, I am dedicated to assisting you to ensure that this course is a meaningful learning experience, and that you will be successful! Please don’t hesitate to contact me (jacobil@d2l.sfasu.edu) during virtual office hours or to make an appointment with me for a phone call or Zoom meeting if you have questions or concerns. I am more than happy to be helpful in any possible way to help the learning process; however, ultimately, you as the student are responsible for your success in this course.

University Policies:

Academic Integrity (4.1)

The Code of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity outlines the prohibited conduct by any student enrolled in a course at SFA. It is the responsibility of all members of all faculty, staff, and students to adhere to and uphold this policy.

Articles IV, VI, and VII of the new Code of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity outline the violations and procedures concerning academic conduct, including cheating, plagiarism, collusion, and misrepresentation. Cheating includes, but is not limited to: (1) Copying from the test paper (or other assignment) of another student, (2) Possession and/or use during a test of materials that are not authorized by the person giving the test, (3) Using, obtaining, or attempting to obtain by any means the whole or any part of a non-administered test, test key, homework solution, or computer program, or using a test that has been administered in prior classes or semesters without permission of the Faculty member, (4) Substituting for another person, or permitting another person to substitute for one’s self, to take a test, (5) Falsifying research data, laboratory reports, and/or other records or academic work offered for credit, (6) Using any sort of unauthorized resources or technology in completion of educational activities.

Plagiarism is the appropriation of material that is attributable in whole or in part to another source or the use of one’s own previous work in another context without citing that it was used previously, without any indication of the original source, including words, ideas, illustrations, structure, computer code, and other expression or media, and presenting that material as one’s own academic work being offered for credit or in conjunction with a program course or degree requirements.

Collusion is the unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing academic assignments offered for credit or collaboration with another person to commit a violation of any provision of the rules on academic dishonesty, including disclosing and/or distributing the contents of an exam.

Misrepresentation is providing false grades or résumés; providing false or misleading information in an effort to receive a postponement or an extension on a test, quiz, or other assignment for the purpose of obtaining an academic or financial benefit for oneself or another individual or to injure another student academically or financially.

Withheld Grades Semester Grades Policy (5.5)

Ordinarily, at the discretion of the instructor of record and with the approval of the academic chair/director, a grade of WH will be assigned only if the student cannot complete the coursework because of unavoidable circumstances. Students must complete the work within one calendar year from the end of the semester in which they receive a WH, or the grade automatically becomes an F. If students register for the same course in future terms the WH will automatically become an F and will be counted as a repeated course to compute the grade point average. For additional information, go to https://www.sfasu.edu/policies/course-grades-5.5.pdf.

Students with Disabilities

To obtain disability-related accommodations, alternate formats, and/or auxiliary aids, students with disabilities must contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS), Human Services Building, and Room 325, 468-3004 / 468-1004

(TDD) as early as possible in the semester. Once verified, ODS will notify the course instructor and outline the accommodation and/or auxiliary aids to be provided. Failure to request services promptly may delay your accommodations. For additional information, go to http://www.sfasu.edu/disabilityservices/.

Student Wellness and Well-Being

SFA values students’ overall well-being, mental health and the role it plays in academic and overall student success. Students may experience stressors that can impact both their academic experience and their personal well-being. These may include academic pressure and challenges associated with relationships, emotional well-being, alcohol and other drugs, identities, finances, etc.

If you are experiencing concerns, seeking help, SFA provides a variety of resources to support students’ mental health and wellness. Many of these resources are free, and all of them are confidential.

Acceptable Student Conduct

Online course behavior should not interfere with the instructor’s ability to conduct the course or with the ability of other students to learn from the instructional program (see the Student Conduct Code). Discourteous, hostile, or disparaging online remarks or behavior will not be tolerated. It is essential to listen to and consider others’ opinions and viewpoints in an unbiased manner even if you do not agree, and if you respond, to do so politely, explaining the rationale for your opinion. The expectation is that students will conduct themselves in a mature, civil manner, and will display respectfulness at all times toward classmates and the Professor.

Unacceptable or disruptive student behavior will not be tolerated. Students who disrupt the learning environment may be asked to leave class and may be subject to judicial, academic or other penalties. This prohibition applies to all instructional forums, including electronic, classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The instructor shall have full discretion over what behavior is appropriate and/or inappropriate in the classroom. Students who do not attend class regularly (or are not virtual present and engaging in the online course) or who perform poorly on class projects/exams may be referred to the Early Alert Program. This program provides students with recommendations for resources or other assistance that is available to help SFA students succeed. As instructor, I reserve the right to drop students for inappropriate behavior.

Additional Course Information:
- Cell phones, i-phones, and similar devices are not allowed during quizzes or exams. Texting during a quiz or exam is a violation of academic integrity and will be reported. During live Zoom sessions, students should not be using their phones or other electronic devices (except to access Zoom). Using your cell phone during a livestream is both distracting and disrespectful. All cell phones should be put away. Research finds that merely having your cell phone on the desk distracts you and negatively affects learning! So when reading your text, module, or studying, it is best to store your phone on silent (in your backpack or purse). A multitude of research has found that cell phones are distracting to the professor, the owner of the phone, and other students seated nearby. Please be mindful of this in all of your courses.

- The course outline that follows is subject to change based on students’ level of comprehension, mastery of material presented, and/or extraneous circumstances.
- Should you require any additional information, reference books, or simply in doubt, feel free to contact me by email. If your question concerns the material we are covering, please feel free to ask topic-related questions – I answer questions during office hours or by appointment
- NOTE: As the instructor, I recognize that sometimes there are exception circumstances that warrant consideration. If there are some extenuating circumstances that affect your ability to pay attention or if temporary modifications are needed, please notify me (Dr. Jacobi) before assignments are due.
- SFASU values students’ mental health and the role it plays in academic and overall student success. SFA provides a variety of resources to support students’ mental health and wellness. Many of these resources are free, and all of them are confidential.

NOTE: Throughout the course, in the D2L modules there are a number of required discussion posts (and a chapter quiz in each module). Read all Modules and complete discussion posts by the time allotted. Some discussions require an initial post and 2 responses while others just require an initial post – be sure to read the directions carefully! Additionally, most discussions are 5 points and a couple are 10 points.
