COURSE SYLLABUS

I. COURSE DESCRIPTION

Introduction to the social work profession and service provisions, including the history, philosophy, values and ethics of the profession. The generalist problem-solving model is introduced.

II. COURSE OVERVIEW

The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the profession of Social Work. The professional knowledge, values and ethics of Social Work will be taught to students with major emphasis being placed on the relationship between the profession of Social Work and Generalist Social Work Practice. Course content will also include information on the historical and philosophical development of the Social Work profession as well as the significance of values and ethics in the profession.

This course will address issues related to discrimination, economic deprivation, and oppression that place persons-at-risk or in need of social work services in our society. Issues of gender, race, ethnicity, culture, age and sexual preference as they relate to Generalist Social Work practice will also be explored throughout the course.

III. COURSE CONTACT OURS AND STUDY HOURS

SOCW 2361 Introduction to Social Work is 3-credit hour face-to-face course in the fall term which consist of 3 hours of classroom time/direct instruction and at least 6 hours of out-of-class work per week. Outside class work activities include conducting research for written assignments, preparing presentations, and other group assignments.
IV. TEXT AND MATERIALS

RECOMMENDED TEXT:

V. CURRICULUM DESCRIPTION

The BSW program at SFA features the generalist practice in a Rural Context. Both are defined below.

Generalist practice is grounded in the liberal arts and the person-in-environment framework. To promote human and social well-being, generalist practitioners use a range of prevention and intervention methods in their practice with diverse individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities based on scientific inquiry and best practices. The generalist practitioner identifies with the social work profession and applies ethical principles and critical thinking in practice at the micro, mezzo, and macro levels. Generalist practitioners engage diversity in their practice and advocate for human rights and social and economic justice. They recognize, support, and build on the strengths and resiliency of all human beings. They engage in research-informed practice and are proactive in responding to the impact of context on professional practice.

Briefly, generalist social work practice:

- Is multi-level to include individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities
- Is multi-theory, allowing for the free selection of theories as appropriate
- Utilizes a problem identification and solving focus that follows a problem-solving framework
- Utilizes multiple interventions at multiple levels, as appropriate
- Addresses the complexity of individual, family, group, organizational, and community system interactions
- Requires an integration of awareness, competence, and professional response to issues of values, ethics, diversity, culture, social justice, and populations-at-risk
VI. PROGRAM LEARNING OUTCOMES (CSWE COMPETENCIES)

1. Demonstrate Ethical and Professional Behavior.
2. Engage Diversity and Difference in Practice.

8. Apply self-awareness and self-regulation to manage the influence of personal biases and values in working with diverse clients and constituencies. (competency 2).

9. Apply their understanding of social, economic, and environmental justice to advocate for human rights at the individual and system levels. (competency 3).

10. Apply knowledge of human behavior and the social environment, person-in-environment, and other multidisciplinary theoretical frameworks in interventions with clients and constituencies. (Competency 7)

11. Use inter-professional collaboration as appropriate to achieve beneficial practice outcomes. (competency 8).

12. Negotiate, mediate, and advocate with and on behalf of diverse clients and constituencies. (Competency 8).
Becoming a Scholarly Practitioner:

This course will help you establish your identities as scholarly practitioners and leaders. The Scholarly Practitioner is defined as one who blends practical wisdom with professional skills and knowledge to identify, assess, and solve problems of practice, uses practical research and applied theories as tools for change; addresses problems of practice by collaborating with key stakeholders, including the university, educational institutions, communities, individuals, families, and organizations.

VIII. INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

This course will be conducted in a lecture-discussion format. Face to face will be used to provide instruction. Students are encouraged to ask questions and contribute comments for discussion. This class is a safe classroom and is designed for all students to have the opportunity to share their perspectives, without being chastised or attacked by other students. Students should be respectful to one another and to the professor and should refrain from using any language that could be perceived as racist, inappropriate, or offensive. Initial classroom problems will be brought to the student’s attention so that they have an opportunity to correct the behavior and learn from the experience. Repeated disruptions may result in the student being moved to a breakout room, removed from class, or require a behavioral alert.

Exams will consist of essay, short answers, multiple choice and true-false questions and will be administered virtually at the scheduled class time. The exams will evaluate knowledge of content. The assigned paper will measure students' ability to critically evaluate and integrate course content. Exams will test for material from the text, from lecture, and from outside readings.

One class day will be used for a current event discussion. The specific requirements for each current event assignment will be given in class prior to the due date and assigned topics will vary. Students are required to bring to class a peer-reviewed article related to the assigned topic. This information will be presented to the class for discussion and submitted to the drop box. Points will be awarded for this activity. When presentations are required, students should be present to receive participation points.

IX. COMPUTER REQUIREMENTS

This course will utilize Brightspace to support the delivery of course content (for help with Brightspace/D2L, go to: https://www.sfactl.com/student-support. You will need basic skills regarding the use of a word processor and web browser. Computers are available to you through a number of labs across campus (see www.sfasu.edu or the instructor for details). Since this class is web-enhanced, it is expected that you regularly visit Brightspace for all updates, and news items. Important Changes will be discussed in livestream classes and shared on news items. Assignments, guidelines for instructions, and other helpful information will be accessible in the course Brightspace page. In the event of an absence from class, it is the student’s responsibility to check Brightspace for any homework assigned or missed material.

XI. COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

A. Class Attendance and Participation: It is essential for students to read assigned material before coming to class, to attend class regularly, and to participate in class discussion. Students are responsible for all material covered in class and assigned in the syllabus, whether they have attended class, or been absent. If the absence is related to a university approved absence, the student should notify the professor in writing and submit extended absences with documentation to the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities.

Cell Phones/Pagers/Electronic Devices: Such devices are disruptive to the classroom environment and students are expected to refrain from using them during class. All such devices are to be placed on silent mode or turned off during class. Given that this class is live-streamed, please silence notifications during class sessions. Repeated interruptions may result in a deduction of points from the final average. No such devices are to be within view during exams.

B. Readings: Each week contains required readings from the text and/or referenced journal articles. Some articles will be posted on Brightspace. You can utilize the articles for home study, exam preparation and research. You will be responsible for all readings at test time whether they have been reviewed in class. Other readings may also be utilized to facilitate coverage of the many issues to be discussed in this course.

C. Exams: Two (2) major application exams will be given during the semester. All material provided on the topics, including all assigned readings, discussions, lectures, classroom questions/responses, and guest presentations are subject to examination. The exams will consist of a combination of matching, multiple choice, true/false, and essay questions.

The student is expected to take all exams at the scheduled time. Permission to miss any exam will be based on the policy for excused absences as stated in the SFASU General Bulletin (available online at http://www.sfasu.edu/73.asp). Missing an exam without either prior permission or an excused absence will result in a grade of "0" on that exam. The instructor will schedule make-up exams.

D. Quizzes: A total of three (3) quizzes will be given over the course of the semester. The quizzes will evaluate for general comprehension of the course material (assigned readings and/or previous lecture topics) or may be based on active participation in a classroom activity or attendance. The quizzes will be unannounced and may occur at any time during the class period.

Missing a quiz due to an unexcused absence will result in a grade of “0” on that quiz. Make-up quizzes will be given for an excused absence as defined by the SFASU General Bulletin and will be scheduled by the instructor.

E. Assignments: The student is responsible for completing assignments in accordance with the specific guidelines identified in the assignment description (in the syllabus). Assignments must be typed with a word processor in 12 pt. font with double spacing and standard margins. All assignments are to be in APA format according to the Publication Manual of the APA. Failure to meet these guidelines will result in loss of points.

Late assignments will result in 10% of the total possible points being deducted from the total points earned for each day the assignment is late, with 10% deducted immediately following the class period during which the assignment is due. The only exception is an excused absence as defined by the SFASU General Bulletin.

XIV. ATTENDANCE POLICY
Per Class Attendance Policy SFA 6.7 students are expected to attend all classes, laboratories, and other class-related activities on a regular and punctual basis. Attendance policies will be stated in the course syllabus. For those classes where attendance is a factor in the course grade, an accurate record of attendance will be maintained. Absences At the discretion of the instructor, students may be excused from attendance for reasons such as health, family emergencies, or student participation in approved university-sponsored events. When possible, students should notify their instructors in advance about absences. Students are responsible for providing documentation in a timely manner to the instructor for each absence. The instructor determines whether such documentation is satisfactory. Students missing classes, other than for university-sponsored trips, should contact the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities (OSRR) and request that an absence notification be sent to the instructor(s). The notification is not an excuse, and is not evaluated by OSRR. The notification is only provided as a courtesy to the student and the student’s instructor(s). If participating in university-sponsored events, announcements in mySFA may constitute official notification. Faculty members sponsoring activities that require their students to be absent from other classes must submit to the provost and vice president for academic affairs an explanation of the absence, including the date, time, and an alphabetical listing of all attending students. If approved by the provost and vice president for academic affairs, this information will be posted on mySFA. Whether absences are excused or unexcused by the instructor, a student is still responsible for all course content and assignments. Students with accepted excuses may be permitted to make up work for absences equaling no more than 15% of the scheduled course meeting time for the term, depending on the nature of the missed work. The timeline for completing make-up work will be determined by the instructor.

XV. ACADEMIC INTEGRITY SFA POLICY (4.1)

The use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) and other electronic/online resources should be discussed with the instructor.

The Code of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity outlines the prohibited conduct by any student enrolled in a course at SFA. It is the responsibility of all members of all faculty, staff, and students to adhere to and uphold this policy.

Articles IV, VI, and VII of the new Code of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity outline the violations and procedures concerning academic conduct, including cheating, plagiarism, collusion, and misrepresentation. Cheating includes, but is not limited to: (1) Copying from the test paper (or other assignment) of another student, (2) Possession and/or use during a test of materials that are not authorized by the person giving the test, (3) Using, obtaining, or attempting to obtain by any means the whole or any part of a non-administered test, test key, homework solution, or computer program, or using a test that has been administered in prior classes or semesters without permission of the Faculty member, (4) Substituting for another person, or permitting another person to substitute for one’s self, to take a test, (5) Falsifying research data, laboratory reports, and/or other records or academic work offered for credit, (6) Using any sort of unauthorized resources or technology in completion of educational activities.

Plagiarism is the appropriation of material that is attributable in whole or in part to another source or the use of one’s own previous work in another context without citing that it was used previously, without any indication of the original source, including words, ideas, illustrations, structure, computer code, and other expression or media, and presenting that material as one’s own academic work being offered for credit or in conjunction with a program course or degree requirements.

Collusion is the unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing academic assignments offered for credit or collaboration with another person to commit a violation of any provision of the rules on academic dishonesty, including disclosing and/or distributing the contents of an exam.

Misrepresentation is providing false grades or résumés; providing false or misleading information in an effort to receive a postponement or an extension on a test, quiz, or other assignment for the purpose of obtaining an academic or financial benefit for oneself or another individual or to injure another student academically or financially.

Note: The following is specific to School of Social Work.

Social work students are required to uphold the School of Social Work Academic and Professional Integrity Code they agreed to when they first enrolled in the program. The BSW/MSW/DSW Student Handbook and Academic and Professional Integrity Code outline acceptable student behavior. Classroom behavior should not interfere with the instructor’s ability to conduct the class or the ability of other students to learn from the instructional program. Students who disrupt the learning environment may be asked to leave class and may be subject to judicial, academic or other penalties. This prohibition applies to all instructional forums, including electronic, classroom, labs, discussion groups, visits to agencies, field trips, etc. The instructor shall have full discretion over what behavior is appropriate or inappropriate in the classroom. Students who do not attend class regularly or who perform poorly on class projects/exams may be referred to the Early Alert Program. This program provides students with recommendations for resources or other assistance that is available to help SFA students succeed.

XVI. WITHHELD GRADES SEMESTER GRADES POLICY (SFA Policy 5.5)

Ordinarily, at the discretion of the instructor of record and with the approval of the academic chair/director, a grade of WH will be assigned only if the student cannot complete the coursework because of unavoidable circumstances. Students must complete the work within one calendar year from the end of the semester in which they receive a WH, or the grade automatically becomes an F. If students register for the same course in future terms the WH will automatically become an F and will be counted as a repeated course to compute the grade point average. For additional information, go to https://www.sfasu.edu/policies/course-grades-5.5.pdf.

XVII. STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

To obtain disability-related accommodations, alternate formats, and/or auxiliary aids, students with disabilities must contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS), Human Services Building, and Room 325, 468-3004 / 468-1004 (TDD) as early as possible in the semester. Once verified, ODS will notify the course instructor and outline the accommodation and/or auxiliary aids to be provided. Failure to request services promptly may delay your accommodations. For additional information, go to http://www.sfasu.edu/disabilityservices/.

XVIII. STUDENT WELLNESS AND WELL-BEING

SFA values students’ overall well-being, mental health and the role it plays in academic and overall student success. Students may experience stressors that can impact both their academic experience and their personal well-being. These may include academic pressure and challenges associated with relationships, emotional well-being, alcohol and other drugs, identities, finances, etc.

If you are experiencing concerns, seeking help, SFA provides a variety of resources to support students’ mental health and wellness. Many of these resources are free, and all of them are confidential.

SOCW 2361 – Fall 2023
Assignment I: Lifestyle Paper
(100 points)

DUE DATE: 10/19/2023

This assignment is designed to help students identify Component behaviors, which achieve the Nine Core Competencies: and will require you to illustrate your knowledge of generalist social work practice with individuals, families, groups, communities and organizations. This assignment is an experiential exercise that requires you to take on the identity of a fictitious person. The lifestyle described here consists of over 25 percent of our total population; therefore, this is reality for a significant number of our clientele (this concept refers to individuals, families, groups, communities and organizations). This paper is worth 100 points. Refer to rubric to ensure that all required areas are addressed. This paper should be between 7-8 pages in length, excluding the title page.

For the purpose of this paper you are to assume that you are a parent with three children (ages 2, 4, 6) who is receiving Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF). You are unemployed and recently separated from your spouse. Your monthly benefit check is $221 per month and you get $250 per month food allowance. (Food allowance may only be used to purchase food items.) Your spouse pays no child support. Most of your medical expenses are paid by Medicaid.

The first part of the assignment is to prepare a monthly budget for your family. Include items like food, rent, utilities, clothing, transportation, laundry and entertainment. Also, include the cost of non-food items like soap, nonprescription medications and paper products. In this budget you should first detail how much is to be spent on each item each month. Then describe the quality of life you would be leading. In other words, describe what your housing would be like, how clean you would be able to keep your clothes, what kind of entertainment you would have, etc.
The second part of the assignment is to prepare a monthly budget under the assumption that you took a part time job. Assume that you have the possibility of getting a 1/2 time job washing dishes at a restaurant at minimum wage. ($7.25/hr.) Your gross pay would be $412/month and your net pay would be $363/month. Your TANF would be reduced to $111/month and your food allowance to $205/month. Take into consideration extra expenses such as day care, extra clothing and transportation. (Day care 2 1/2 days per week for two children.) Compare and contrast your working budget with the first budget you prepared. Is it worth it to go to work? Explain why or why not.

Include the following in your assignment.

1. Identify or at least describe the type of organizations you will be dealing with in your lifestyle.
2. Describe the community that you live in.
3. Describe the life of your family.
4. Describe your social structure and the groups you are interfacing with in your lifestyle.
5. Discuss who you are within the context of this situation. What are your strengths and weaknesses?
SOCW 2361 – Fall 2023
Assignment II: Integrative Paper
(100 points)

DUE DATE: 11/17/2023

This assignment will require students to write a paper that reflects an understanding of social work and social work practice. It should be a professionally prepared paper adhering to the APA format. The paper should be typed, double-spaced and 8 to 10 pages in length. It should reflect the integration of reading, lecture or other research materials. This paper is worth 100 points. Refer to the rubric to ensure that all required areas are addressed.

I. Define and describe the profession of social work.
   1. Mission, Purpose, Goals
   2. Attributes of the Profession
   3. Historical Development (Social Movements)

II. Define and discuss generalist social work practice.
    1. Elements of Generalist Practice
    2. Definition of Generalist Practice
    3. Examples from lifestyle Paper

III. Identify and visit a field of social work practice.
     1. Date, location and time visited the agency
     2. Identify type of field of practice

IV. Interview a social worker (identify as a social worker) in an agency that reflects your chosen field of practice. Include the following:
1. What social problem or areas of social functioning does the agency attempt to address?
2. Give a description of your field of practice including a brief history and some of the problems social workers attempt to help clients resolve.
3. Auspices of the agency (Private, Public, Nonprofit)
4. Describe the population served by the agency (specific characteristics of the population) and services provided.
5. Identify the criteria to receive services
6. Provide contact information and qualifications of the social worker, and then discuss a typical day on the job.

V. What is your opinion about working in the field of social work practice
