COURSE SYLLABUS

I. COURSE DESCRIPTION

The primary purpose of this final practice methods course is to present students with an opportunity to apply the holistic perspective of generalist social work practice with communities and organizations in preparation for the field experience and eventual professional practice. In this course students explore and apply generalist practice knowledge, values, and skills to the multiple interacting client systems through use and application of the problem solving process, appropriate theoretical concepts, liberal arts base, and professional foundation courses.

The student will learn to integrate and apply social work knowledge, values and skills to communities and organizations. Students will explore processes used to facilitate change within communities and organizations within the context of generalist social work practice functions in seeking social and economic justice for all client populations.

II. CURRICULUM DESCRIPTION
The BSW program at SFASU features a generalist perspective to social work practice, defined as follows:

Generalist practice is grounded in the liberal arts and the person-in-environment framework. To promote human and social well-being, generalist practitioners use a range of prevention and intervention methods in their practice with diverse individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities based on scientific inquiry and best practices. The generalist practitioner identifies with the social work profession and applies ethical principles and critical thinking in practice at the micro, mezzo, and macro levels. Generalist practitioners engage diversity in their practice and advocate for human rights and social and economic justice. They recognize, support, and build on the strengths and resiliency of all human beings. They engage in research-informed practice and are proactive in responding to the impact of context on professional practice.

Briefly, generalist social work practice:
- Is multi-level to include individuals, families, groups, organizations and communities
- Is multi-theory, allowing for the free selection of theories as appropriate
- Utilizes a problem identification and solving focus that follows a problem-solving framework
- Utilizes multiple interventions at multiple levels, as appropriate
- Addresses the complexity of individual, family, group, organizational and community system interactions
- Requires an integration of awareness, competence, and professional response to issues of values, ethics, diversity, culture, social justice, and populations-at-risk

The course will incorporate the following instructional strategies: lecture, class discussion, in-class activities, assigned readings, individual projects, and group presentations. Students are encouraged to actively participate in activities, ask questions, and contribute comments for discussion. Most importantly, students are expected to be active learners and to ask for clarification when they have questions. You will be expected to not only know the material presented, but to be able to apply it in experiential activities. Lectures will not duplicate the reading material except to clarify or to expand upon it and to review material covered in prerequisite courses. The goal of this approach is to develop a safe learning environment that addresses a variety of learning styles, promotes critical thinking, and fosters creativity. Students should make every attempt to attend all classes and assume responsibility for their own learning.
VI. COMPUTER REQUIREMENTS
This course will utilize Brightspace/D2L to support the delivery of course content. For additional support with Brightspace/D2L and other technology needs, go to https://www.sfactl.com/student-support. You will need basic skills regarding the use of a word processor and web browser.

Make note that many assignments, activities, and/or quizzes and exams will be given through D2L. Course content, including PowerPoints, lecture notes, and additional readings, will be uploaded to D2L. VIII. COURSE REQUIREMENTS

A. Course expectations,
Instructor expectations: It is my responsibility to deliver course content and facilitate learning through a combination of class discussion, lecture, and creation of meaningful activities and assignments. It is also my responsibility to be on time and present in the classroom, provide timely feedback on assignments, and be available to students during office hours. I care deeply about contributing to the profession of social work by facilitating the growth and development of future social workers and colleagues I would be proud to work alongside. I promise to be an active learner myself and listen to constructive feedback about opportunities to make learning more meaningful in the classroom.

Student expectations: A student’s responsibility is primarily to be accountable for their own learning through adequate class preparation and meaningful class contributions. This means setting aside regular time during the week to read and review course content and complete assignments. This also means making time to ask questions during office hours if needed. I have found that students who are able to set aside regular intervals during the week to prepare for class have better outcomes than those who try to complete all their work in the hour prior to class. Homework, papers, projects, other assignments, etc, are due prior to the start of class, unless otherwise noted. Your learning is your own, and your time in the program is an opportunity to practice the professionalism you will use in the field. Please be respectful.

B. Class attendance and participation: In order for the class to discuss the readings and complete in-class activities, it is essential for students to read assigned material before coming to class, to attend class regularly, and to participate. Furthermore, students are expected to arrive on time and stay for the duration of the class. Absences and/or a persistent pattern of lateness will affect a student’s grade. Finally, students are responsible for all material covered in class and assigned in the syllabus, whether or not they have attended class.

Absences: At the discretion of the instructor, students may be excused from attendance for reasons such as health, family emergencies, or student participation in approved university-sponsored events. When possible, students should notify their instructors in advance about absences. Students are responsible for providing documentation in a timely manner to the instructor for each absence. The instructor determines whether such documentation is satisfactory. Students missing classes, other than for university-sponsored trips, should contact the Office of Student Conduct and Outreach and request that an absence notification be sent to the instructor(s). The notification is not an excuse and is not evaluated by the Office. The notification is only provided as a courtesy to the student and the student's instructor(s). For more information, click on “absence notification” here: https://www.sfasu.edu/deanofstudents/student-resources/report-it

Cell phones/electronic devices: Such devices are disruptive to the classroom environment and students are expected to refrain from using them during class. All such devices are to be placed on silent mode or turned off during class. Repeated interruptions may result in a deduction of points from the final average.

C. Readings: The course outline provides a list of required readings for each week. Since lectures, class discussions and activities are designed to answer questions about the material and expand upon the basic concepts, students are expected to complete the assigned readings prior to class. Furthermore, students are expected to come to class prepared to discuss the information, as evidenced by active participation in class discussion. For example, students should present well-formulated questions and comments that demonstrate prior preparation.

D. Quizzes: Ten (10) quizzes worth ten (10) points each will be given over the semester to test for general comprehension of the course material (assigned readings and/or previous lecture topics). Permission to miss any quiz will be based on “Absence” policy above. Missing a quiz without either prior permission or an excused absence will result in a grade of "0" on that quiz. The instructor will schedule make-up quizzes.

E. In-class Group Meetings: A total of five in-class group meetings with me will be held during the semester. The purpose of these meetings is to provide you support and guidance in the development of your group paper and presentation. You are expected to come to the meeting prepared to discuss your progress and any issues that may arise. You are also expected to actively participate in each meeting. The meetings are worth 10 points each, which will be based on attendance and participation. I will assign you to a group by the second week of class. See the assignment description for details. Missing a group meeting, regardless of the reason, will result in a grade of “0” for that meeting.

F. Exams: Two exams will be given during the semester – a midterm and a final. All material provided on the topics, including all assigned readings, discussions, lectures, discussion questions/response, and guest presentations are subject to examination. The final exam will be an application of all course content.

The student is expected to take all exams at the scheduled time. Permission to miss any exam will be based on “Absence” policy above. Missing an exam without either prior permission or an excused absence will result in a grade of "0" on that exam. The instructor will schedule make-up exams.

G. Assignments: The student is responsible for completing assignments in accordance with the specific guidelines identified in the assignment description (in the syllabus). Assignments A&B are to be typed in 12 pt. font with double spacing and standard margins. All assignments are to be in APA format per the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (7th ed.). Failure to meet these guidelines will result in loss of points. Please visit this website for more information and resources on APA: https://owl.purdue.edu/owl/research_and_citation/apa_style/apa_style_introduction.html. See the descriptions of Assignments A & B for additional assignment guidelines.

Late assignments: Students are expected to turn in assignments at the scheduled time. Permission to miss any exam will be based on “Absence” policy above. Turning in an assignment late will result in 5-10% of the total points being deducted from the total points earned for each day the assignment is late, with a max of 50% deducted after one week. You may turn in any assignment up to the last day of class prior to the final for up to 50% credit.

Academic Integrity (4.1)

The use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) and other electronic/online resources should be discussed with the instructor.

The Code of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity outlines the prohibited conduct by any student enrolled in a course at SFA. It is the responsibility of all members of all faculty, staff, and students to adhere to and uphold this policy. Articles IV, VI, and VII of the new Code of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity outline the violations and procedures concerning academic conduct, including cheating, plagiarism, collusion, and misrepresentation. Cheating includes, but is not limited to: (1) Copying from the test paper (or other assignment) of another student, (2) Possession and/or use during a test of materials that are not authorized by the person giving the test, (3) Using, obtaining, or attempting to obtain by any means the whole or any part of a non-administered test, test key, homework solution, or computer program, or using a test that has been administered in prior classes or semesters without permission of the Faculty member, (4) Substituting for another person, or permitting another person to substitute for one’s self, to take a test, (5) Falsifying research data, laboratory reports, and/or other records or academic work offered for credit, (6) Using any sort of unauthorized resources or technology in completion of educational activities. Plagiarism is the appropriation of material that is attributable in whole or in part to another source or the use of one’s own previous work in another context without citing that it was used previously, without any indication of the original source, including words, ideas, illustrations, structure, computer code, and other expression or media, and presenting that material as one’s own academic work being offered for credit or in conjunction with a program course or degree requirements. Collusion is the unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing academic assignments offered for credit or collaboration with another person to commit a violation of any provision of the rules on academic dishonesty, including disclosing and/or distributing the contents of an exam. Misrepresentation is providing false grades or résumés; providing false or misleading information in an effort to receive a postponement or an extension on a test, quiz, or other assignment for the purpose of obtaining an academic or financial benefit for oneself or another individual or to injure another student academically or financially.

Withheld Grades Semester Grades Policy (5.5)
Ordinarily, at the discretion of the instructor of record and with the approval of the academic chair/director, a grade of WH will be assigned only if the student cannot complete the coursework because of unavoidable circumstances. Students must complete the work within one calendar year from the end of the semester in which they receive a WH, or the grade automatically becomes an F. If students register for the same course in future terms the WH will automatically become an F and will be counted as a repeated course to compute the grade point average. For additional information, go to https://www.sfasu.edu/policies/course-grades-5.5.pdf.

Students with Disabilities
To obtain disability-related accommodations, alternate formats, and/or auxiliary aids, students with disabilities must contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS), Human Services Building, and Room 325, 468-3004 / 468-1004 (TDD) as early as possible in the semester. Once verified, ODS will notify the course instructor and outline the accommodation and/or auxiliary aids to be provided. Failure to request services promptly may delay your accommodations. For additional information, go to http://www.sfasu.edu/disabilityservices/

Student Wellness and Well-Being
SFA values students’ overall well-being, mental health and the role it plays in academic and overall student success. Students may experience stressors that can impact both their academic experience and their personal well-being. These may include academic pressure and challenges associated with relationships, emotional well-being, alcohol and other drugs, identities, finances, etc. If you are experiencing concerns, seeking help, SFA provides a variety of resources to support students’ mental health and wellness. Many of these resources are free, and all of them are confidential.

Assignment B: Macro Intervention Proposal

I will assign you to small groups, each of which will work together to formulate and propose a macro level intervention framed in the context of the Community Partnership Model. Specifically, each will design an intervention addressing a gap identified in the PHG Community Initiative to Address Substance Misuse. Since this is a proposal (you are proposing what you will do, not discussing what you have done), you need to clearly explain how you would implement each step and support your decisions/recommendations with information from social work literature. This assignment should follow the format provided below and include the noted information:

Introduction

Introduce your topic and tell the audience what the paper will cover. This includes identifying the community and issue. Be sure that you clearly demonstrate the importance of the topic and its connection to generalist social work practice. This should consist of 1-2 paragraphs.

Analysis (15 pts)

Introduce the concept of analysis and explain it in the context of your project (1 paragraph). This should be brief as the details will be provided in the following subsections.

However, since this section is based on the San Augustine Needs Assessment, you only need to provide a summary of these items (2-3 paragraphs). Briefly describe the community (demographics, values, and economy), assigned social issue, and the health and human services system (include what is present, what is absent, and barriers to access).

Process of Analysis. Describe the process you will use to ensure community involvement in the analysis process (CAR/PAR). This should take 1-2 paragraphs.

Alternative Solutions. You need to formulate and include at least three viable alternatives based on the community needs assessment. Each of these alternatives is to include interventions with at least two systems (organizations and communities). You need to clearly describe and justify each of the alternatives. Each alternative should be given a paragraph (3 paragraphs total). You need to cite at least one source for each of your alternative solutions.

Social Work Values, Ethics and Practice. Be sure to make the connection to social work values, ethics, and generalist social work practice (1-2 paragraphs). This item constitutes 5 of the 15 points for this section.

Ownership (15pts)

Introduce the concept of ownership and explain it in the context of your project (1 paragraph). This should be brief as the details will be provided in the following subsections.

Establishing and Maintaining Ownership. You need to outline and clearly explain how you would go about establishing and maintaining community ownership of both the issue/problem and the solution. Also, you need to talk about how you will know that you have established ownership. The focus of this discussion should be on describing how activities in each of the other 5 steps help to establish and/or maintain ownership. Be sure to make the connection between evaluation and accountability. This section should be 3-5 paragraphs.

Social Work Values, Ethics and Practice. Be sure to make the connection to social work values, ethics, and generalist social work practice (1-2 paragraphs). This item constitutes 5 of the 15 points for this section.

Description of the Intervention. Your description should include the target population (who will receive services?), eligibility criteria, service region, services, staffing, facilities, funding, etc. Brueggemann’s chapter on program development will help you with this. You need to cite at least one source that supports your proposed intervention. (3-5 paragraphs)

Social Work Values, Ethics and Practice. Be sure to make the connection to social work values, ethics, and generalist social work practice (1-2 paragraphs). This item constitutes 5 of the 15 points for this section.

Stewardship (15pts)

Introduce the concept of stewardship and explain it in the context of your project (1 paragraph). This should be brief as the details will be provided in the following subsections.

Implementation. Clearly outline and explain how you will implement the program. This should include a discussion of how the program will be funded and evaluated. In terms of evaluation, you need to talk about the ongoing evaluation process and how that information will be used to improve service delivery. This discussion should be linked to accountability. (2-3 paragraphs)

Sustainability. You need to discuss the mechanisms that will be put in place to ensure long term success/stability of the intervention. This includes how the program will sustain itself financially, a key element of which includes how the funding base will be diversified in order to increase stability. See the lecture notes on organizational assessment and the articles from the “Eggs” case study for more information about this issue. (1 paragraph)

Leadership. You need to discuss leadership. Specifically, what measures will be taken to ensure that leadership maintains a focus on the group’s best interest. This should also include talking about how the group will ensure leadership development and the role of leadership in sustainability. (2-3 paragraphs)

Social Work Values, Ethics and Practice. Be sure to make the connection to social work values, ethics, and generalist social work practice (1-2 paragraphs). This item constitutes 5 of the 15 points for this section.

Conclusion

Be sure to summarize the main points of your proposal. This is your chance to reiterate the important points of your proposal and to make sure the audience understands their importance! The paragraph should move from specific to broad statements/ideas. (1-2 paragraphs)
References

Be sure to include a reference for each source cited in the body of the paper. You need to cite and reference the following: 1) at least one source for each of your alternative solutions (analysis), 2) at least one source that supports your proposed intervention (technology), and 3) the theory(s) that underlie your proposal.

The final paper must include a statement that identifies each group member and his/her specific responsibilities for developing the paper. Each of you is expected to take responsibility for facilitating two of the following activities: writing a section of the paper (introduction, agenda building, structure, analysis, ownership, technology, stewardship, and conclusion), creating the reference page, and/or making the final edits (transitions, consistency, etc.). One of your two tasks must include a major content area (agenda building, structure, analysis, ownership, technology, or stewardship). You will assign these tasks during the first in-class group meeting.

You need to be sure that your discussions throughout the paper are consistent with the model and involve practice with multiple systems (at least organizations and communities).

The assignment will be evaluated based on its adherence to the above guidelines, as well as the following criteria: 1) demonstration of critical thinking skills, 2) ability to organize and clearly present the information, 3) writing skills (such as grammar and punctuation), and 4) adherence to APA guidelines.

Groups will submit the assignment to D2L on the due date for the assignment. The assignment will be considered late until it has been submitted to the appropriate D2L dropbox.

The assignment is worth a total of 100 points. 80 points will come from the assigned sections (including 5 points for introduction and conclusion). Grading on grammar, organization, and APA will be included. The entire group will get the grade out of 80. The final 20 points will be assigned by the individual group members. You will email me the grade you give each of your groupmates out of 20 for their effort, impact, etc. This will be added to the 80 to give each member their final grade on this assignment.

Please refer to the course schedule for the due date.

For the historical figure - You will write a biographical review of what this person accomplished, with a focus on macro social work efforts by this person. You will include content on one advocacy effort and how it is relevant to current practice.

On the same word document, you will summarize your macro theory. Describe the theory in your own words and give a real-world example of this theory in practice (as it relates to groups, organizations, communities, etc).

Make sure you also share what area of macro social work you find most intriguing and what area you find intimidating. This will be in APA format and uploaded to dropbox.

What you will present for your historical figure is a single document/flier/powerpoint slide/visual aid (of your choice) with an image that you can make into a photovoice, meme, or hashtag. You will present your choice and briefly explain why your choice was a perfect fit for your historical figure.

What you will present for your macro theory is a mock twitter entry (limit 140 character count) OR a haiku. This should also take a single document/flier/powerpoint slide/visual aid (of your choice).

This assignment will count for two (2) quiz grades.
