CREDIT HOUR JUSTIFICATION

ENGL 1301 “Rhetoric and Composition” (3 credits; fully online) meets online for fifteen weeks during the semester as well as during finals week. Students complete weekly topical readings as well as writing and discussion activities related to those readings. Students write a minimum of three essays with a total page count of at least fifteen pages of finished writing. Emphasis is placed on writing processes, including multiple drafts and short assignments that require generating, revising and editing writing. Finals week is typically spent completing final edits of one or more of the essays. These activities average nine hours of work each week.

REQUIRED TEXTS
None. Anything required for the class will be provided by me.

GRADES AND EVALUATION
I do not accept late work without documentation. You cannot disappear for weeks and then expect me to let you make up the work you missed unless you have documentation to show for it. You cannot avoid doing your work all semester and then try to get it in at the last minute. If you need an extension or to make up work, email me and tell me what’s going on, provide documentation, and you’ll be able to turn in any missed assignments for the period listed on that documentation.

Essays – each assignment is due by midnight on the due date. You must submit all major essays online to D2L. There will be a separate Dropbox folder in D2L for each major essay assignment. Further instructions for each assignment will be given at a later time. Late essays will be given -10 points for each day they are late; extensions may only be granted if you have an excusable absence. Instructions for each essay will be given as they are assigned. You will write four for this course:

- Personal Narrative essay – due February 4.
- Rhetorical Analysis essay – due March 3.
- Literary Analysis essay – due April 7.
- Persuasive essay – due April 28.

Quizzes – There will be quizzes. You will have a week to complete them. Any quizzes turned in after the due date will be graded from 50%.

Weekly Work – There will be discussions and weekly work. Any quizzes turned in after the due date will be graded from 50%.

Final Exam – Using the skills you’ve acquired over the course of the semester, you will write a final essay. Details and materials will be discussed as the date approaches. The final exam must be turned in by the due date to receive credit.

Extra Credit – A substantial visit to the AARC will award you five extra points to one major essay grade. If you aren’t on campus or don’t feel comfortable meeting a tutor face-to-face, you may use the online feedback tool on their D2L page. You must show me proof of your visit or online interaction in order to receive credit (a screenshot will be sufficient). Utilization of the resources available to you are an important part of your education. Throughout the semester, there will be other opportunities to gain extra credit. At any point in the semester, you may e-mail me the cutest photo of an otter you can find. That will award you 5 points on any essay of your choosing. I will keep a tally of who has sent it, and when you're ready to cash in those 5 points, just let me know. If you don't tell me where you'd like those points applied, I will add them where they'll do the most good.

Breakdown of Grades:
Quizzes – 7.5%
Weekly Work – 7.5%
Personal Narrative – 10%
Rhetorical Analysis – 15%
Literary Analysis – 20%
Synthesis Essay – 25%
Final Exam – 15%

ALL ASSIGNMENTS must adhere to MLA guidelines, meaning 1-inch margins on all sides, appropriate headers, double-spaced, written in 12-point Times New Roman, with Works Cited (if required) attached. Each assignment must meet the assignment requirements for page length and source requirement. Failing to do so will result in a SIGNIFICANT drop in your grade. Individual assignment sheets will be provided with further details.

According to university policy, your final grade for the course will consist of a letter grade only. Here is a general description of each letter grade:

A – Student meets and exceeds the expectations for the assignment. Writing demonstrates an understanding of all the key concepts needed to effectively complete the essay. Few, if any, grammatical and/or syntactical errors.

B – Student meets the expectations for the assignment. Writing demonstrates an understanding of most of the key concepts needed to effectively complete the essay. Few grammatical and/or syntactical errors.

C – Student meets the expectations for the assignment. Writing demonstrates a basic understanding of some of the key concepts needed to effectively complete the essay. Several grammatical and/or syntactical errors.

D – Student does not meet at least one expectation for the assignment. Writing demonstrates little understanding of the key concepts needed to effectively complete the essay. Many grammatical and/or syntactical errors.

F – Student does not meet most or all expectations for the assignment. Writing demonstrates little to no understanding of most of the key concepts needed to effectively complete the essay. Pages are missing or plagiarism may have occurred. Writing is incomprehensible with many grammatical and/or syntactical errors.
Grade evaluation may be discussed 48 hours after essays have been returned. I will not discuss it with you until the two-day window has passed.

WITHHELD GRADES – SEMESTER GRADES POLICY (5.5)
Ordinarily, at the discretion of the instructor of record and with the approval of the academic chair/director, a grade of WH will be assigned only if the student cannot complete the course work because of unavoidable circumstances. Students must complete the work within one calendar year from the end of the semester in which they receive a WH, or the grade automatically becomes an F. If students register for the same course in future terms the WH will automatically become an F and will be counted as a repeated course for the purpose of computing the grade point average. For additional information, go to https://www.sfasu.edu/policies/course-grades-5.5.pdf.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY
The Code of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity outlines the prohibited conduct by any student enrolled at SFA. It is the responsibility of all members of all faculty, staff, and students to adhere to and uphold this policy. Articles IV, VI, and VII of the new Code of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity outline the violations and procedures concerning academic conduct, including cheating, plagiarism, collusion, and misrepresentation. Cheating includes, but is not limited to: (1) Copying from the test paper (or other assignment) of another student, (2) Possession and/or use during a test of materials that are not authorized by the person giving the test, (3) Using, obtaining, or attempting to obtain by any means the whole or any part of a non-administered test, test key, homework solution, or computer program, or using a test that has been administered in prior classes or semesters without permission of the Faculty member, (4) Substituting for another person, or permitting another person to substitute for one’s self, to take a test, (5) Falsifying research data, laboratory reports, and/or other records or academic work offered for credit, (6) Using any sort of unauthorized resources or technology in completion of educational activities.

Plagiarism is the appropriation of material that is attributable in whole or in part to another source or the use of one’s own previous work in another context without citing that it was used previously, without any indication of the original source, including words, ideas, illustrations, structure, computer code, and other expression or media, and presenting that material as one’s own academic work being offered for credit or in conjunction with a program course or degree requirements.

Collusion is the unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing academic assignments offered for credit or collaboration with another person to commit a violation of any provision of the rules on academic dishonesty, including disclosing and/or distributing the contents of an exam.

Misrepresentation is providing false grades or résumés; providing false or misleading information in an effort to receive a postponement or an extension on a test, quiz, or other assignment for the purpose of obtaining an academic or financial benefit for oneself or another individual or to injure another student academically or financially.

The use of AI programs such as ChatGPT is prohibited for any graded assignment unless otherwise stated. The use of AI programs on graded assignments is considered plagiarism.
ACCEPTABLE STUDENT BEHAVIOR
A recent policy from the Provost’s Office states, “Classroom behavior should not interfere with the instructor’s ability to conduct the class or the ability of other students to learn from the instructional program (see the Student Conduct Code, policy D-34.1). Unacceptable or disruptive behavior will not be tolerated. Students who disrupt the learning environment may be asked to leave class and may be subject to judicial, academic or other penalties. This prohibition applies to all instructional forums, including electronic, classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The instructor shall have full discretion over what behavior is appropriate/inappropriate in the classroom. Students who do not attend class regularly or who perform poorly on class projects/exams may be referred to the Early Alert Program. This program provides students with recommendations for resources or other assistance that is available to help SFA students succeed.”

You will conduct yourselves in a respectful, professional manner. I don’t think I have to tell you this but be kind to your fellow students when you interact with them (and me).
