Class instruction for beginning pianists. Aimed at non-music majors. Content is focused on improving keyboard skills through reading music notation, playing chords, rhythmic awareness, and establishing music foundations of the fundamentals of music theory.

Course Contact Hours & Practice/Study Hours
(1 credit) typically meets once each week in 50-minute segments for approximately 15 weeks. Performance tests are given approximately once per week in class. Students should expect to practice on either an acoustic piano or a digital piano with 88 weighted keys daily for approximately 30 minutes per day to perform satisfactorily on performance tests. All students enrolled in group piano classes have access to practice rooms with pianos located on the second floor and on the first floor (between band hall and choir room) of the Wright Music Building.

Student Learning Outcome
Students will demonstrate functional keyboard proficiency including scales, techniques, basic accompanying, and sight reading.

Attendance Policy:
Attendance to all classes is required.

- 3 unexcused absences will result in the final grade being lowered one letter.
- 4 unexcused absences will result in the final grade being lowered two letters.
- 5 unexcused absences will result in the final grade being lowered three letters.

The instructor will excuse absences at his or her discretion. Proper documentation such as a doctor’s note will be required upon return to class for requests to excuse an absence. All students are expected to arrive to class on time ready with their textbook. Repeated tardiness or coming to class without a textbook may be applied as absences and could lead to failure of the course. As a courtesy, always ask the instructor for permission to leave the classroom. The instructor will usually grant permission, but if it is a regular occurrence, then the instructor may count the time students are out of class as partial or full absences which can affect the final grade.

Students with Disabilities
To obtain disability-related accommodations, alternate formats, and/or auxiliary aids, students with disabilities must contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS), Human Services Building, and Room 325, 468-3004 / 468-1004 (TDD) as early as possible in the semester. Academic Integrity (4.1)

The Code of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity outlines the prohibited conduct by any student enrolled in a course at SFA. It is the responsibility of all members of all faculty, staff, and students to adhere to and uphold this policy.

Articles IV, VI, and VII of the new Code of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity outline the violations and procedures concerning academic conduct, including cheating, plagiarism, collusion, and misrepresentation. Cheating includes, but is not limited to: (1) Copying from the test paper (or other assignment) of another student, (2) Possession and/or use during a test of materials that are not authorized by the person giving the test, (3) Using, obtaining, or attempting to obtain by any means the whole or any part of a non-administered test, test key, homework solution, or computer program, or using a test that has been administered in prior classes or semesters without permission of the Faculty member, (4) Substituting for another person, or permitting another person to substitute for one's self, to take a test, (5) Falsifying research data, laboratory reports, and/or other records or academic work offered for credit, (6) Using any sort of unauthorized resources or technology in completion of educational activities.

Plagiarism is the appropriation of material that is attributable in whole or in part to another source or the use of one's own previous work in another context without citing that it was used previously, without any indication of the original source, including words, ideas, illustrations, structure, computer code, and other expression or media, and presenting that material as one's own academic work being offered for credit or in conjunction with a program course or degree requirements.

Collusion is the unauthorized collaboration with another person in preparing academic assignments offered for credit or collaboration with another person to commit a violation of any provision of the rules on academic dishonesty, including disclosing and/or distributing the contents of an exam.

Misrepresentation is providing false grades or résumés; providing false or misleading information in an effort to receive a postponement or an extension on a test, quiz, or other assignment for the purpose of obtaining an academic or financial benefit for oneself or another individual or to injure another student academically or financially.

Withheld Grades Semester Grades Policy (5.5)

Ordinarily, at the discretion of the instructor of record and with the approval of the academic chair/director, a grade of WH will be assigned only if the student cannot complete the coursework because of unavoidable circumstances. Students must complete the work within one calendar year from the end of the semester in which they receive a WH, or the grade automatically becomes an F. If students register for the same course in future terms the WH will automatically become an F and will be counted as a repeated course to compute the grade point average.
